Borough's Zoning Problems Reflect Need to Protect the Past in Era of Change

Preserving the best of Princeton, hanging on with a kind of desperation to whatever homes are left in this scantily-housed Borough and trying to guide the change that is inevitable....all these are reflected in the trio of zoning ordinance changes now in various stages of passage by Borough Council.

One, involving Vandeventer and Tulane, was passed last week. A second, concerning midtown parking lots, was tabled. The third one, focused on the section of Nassau Street across from St. Paul's Church, hasn't yet gotten past the Planning Board because of neighborhood discontent.

Vandeventer is regarded by many---certainly by its residents---as one of the pleasantest old streets in the Borough. Big, spacious, turn-of-the-century houses; a funeral home at one end, it is true, and a couple of dentists at the other, but still an in-town street of homes.

At the Nassau Street end of Vandeventer, at 12-14, is an office building with four apartments. The latest zoning skirmish, and indeed the one that precipitated the new zoning change, involved 16 Vandeventer, and the desire of William Bunting to convert it to an office and two apartments.

The area was in the Residential-Office Zone (1), where conversions like this are allowed, but are almost impossible because lots are so small the owner can't possibly meet requirements like "open space" or parking. After a long series of meetings and final resolution of Mr. Bunting's problem, the Zoning Board asked the Planning Board to DO something so this wouldn't happen again.

Board and Council agreed: they felt, in addition, that this was a good chance to preserve, protect and defend what private homes remained on that part of the street. So the houses at 18, 20 and 22 Vandeventer are now protected in a Residential-4 zone and out of the Residential-Office zone. This means they are permanently---if anything in zoning is "permanent"---residential.

Around the corner, on Spring Street and up North Tulane, the change to Residential-4 has saved five other homes. ("Dwelling units" is the way municipal officials like to describe them because the phrase embraces both houses and apartments.)

The two-apartment house at 46 Spring, the private home at 47 North Tulane, and the two apartments and the rooms-for-rent in the Skillman boarding house at 40 North Tulane are now all out of the Residential-Office R-O (1) and sheltered as homes in R-4. The small furniture store on the corner of Spring and Tulane now becomes non-conforming: a store in a residential neighborhood.

The same ordinance transferred part of this neighborhood from Residential-Office to CBD, or Central Business District. Nelson's Glass Shop on Spring Street, the two-apartment house next door owned by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the pink-brick apartment building owned by Leonard LaPlaza.

Prolonged Protests Instrumental in Tabling Ordinance on House Inspection Prior to Sale

Retreating like a home-buyer faced with a ten percent mortgage, Township Committee Monday night pulled back from the ordinance requiring Board of Health inspection before a house can be sold, and unanimously decided to table the measure for study.

The ordinance came from the Township Board of Health itself. The board's chairman, Margaret Sprout, explained to the audience—consisting largely of unhappy real estate agents—that in the past 18 months, new owners had made some unpleasant discoveries about their new homes.

Nine in the rocky northern part of the Township had found themselves with newly-bought polluted wells or malfunctioning septic systems; three elsewhere in the Township had the same pair of problems; five had faulty wiring; three uncovered structural defects and three found rodents.

The health officer would inspect each house before sale, under the proposed ordinance. The ordinance would also update the New Jersey Housing Code, as adopted by the Township, and require landlords who live out of town, to have a resident agent so that tenants would have somebody to complain to.

Where's the Limit? When Leonard Williams, a member of the health department staff who now does similar inspection of rental units, told Committee member Barbara Smoyer that he did about four such inspections a day, she reminded him that the Township had 277 changes in building ownership last year. What about the increase in his work load? she asked.

Other objections, raised in earlier communications with Mayor Jay Bleiman, said the ordinance was so broad that even peeling paint might not pass inspection and besides, private sales between individuals were outside the province of government.

Actually, it was two non-real estate agents—William Cherry and T. B. Fisher—who spoke against the ordinance at greatest length.

It reminded him, Dr. Cherry said, of no-knock searches and forced entry. Even the present ordinance requiring rental inspections may go too far, he said, by implying the officer has a right of entry to a home, and can be given a search warrant purely on his own assertion that the tenant wouldn't let him in.

Not so, said Township attorney Gordon Griffin. The health officer must satisfy the judge that there are reasonable grounds for thinking a violation exists, or show the inspection was part of a scheduled plan of inspections.

How's the Wiring? Then Dr. Cherry turned to the sentence that requires electrical work tn comply with the National Electrical Code "as it is revised from time to time."

"This could be a financial disaster!" Dr. Cherry exclaimed, "if you have an old house, built in the 1930s, and you have to bring it up to new and revised electric standards...!"

"I never have liked adopting future revisions of a code," said Mr. Griffin, in something of an aside.

Why not make inspection voluntary? Dr. Cherry suggested. Let the homeowner ask the health officer for an inspection, then tell the buyer what was found.

Starting off by saying "Every time you turn around the government is meddling in your business," Mr. Fisher presented a typed, six-point list of objections. What provision for appeal?" he wanted to know. How can the general public be harmed by unsupervised sales of real estate between individuals? Why not rely on lending institutions, who aren't going to give a mortgage if the property is in bad shape.

Representing the Princeton Real Estate Group, attorney John Sheridan said that sellers wouldn't be able to establish a price until they knew how much the mandated repairs would cost. And what about people who deliberately buy sub-standard houses because they are cheaper, and then fix them up?

"The burden of inspection," he told Committee, "should be on the buyer."

Inspection Advisable. Few Township houses sell for under $60,000, real estate agent Stuart Minton reminded Committee: "If you're spending $80,000 for a house, you're a fool if you don't have it inspected first by a reliable, honest contractor."

Thomas Cook, who lives on Random Road in a new house, told Committee he once lived in a house built in 1830. "If I'd had to keep it up to current building codes, I'd have gone broke!" he said.

Former Township Mayor John D. Wallace said the ordinance went too far. Why not restrict inspection to septic systems, he asked, "This is THE most serious concern, after all."

He also suggested getting the Real Estate Group and the Citizens Advisory Council on Housing, to confer and make recommendations.

Mrs. Smoyer liked the idea of limiting the inspections to sewer-septic systems, and Mr. Cook said he supported her and Mr. Wallace on the suggested revision. Committee hopes for a report at the April 1 meeting.

Committee, like Borough Council last week, passed a resolution defining the Dinky as "essential public mass transportation" and urging the Interstate Commerce Commission to keep the line from Princeton to Princeton Junction. The resolution was scheduled for delivery to the ICC in Trenton this Tuesday.

AGENDA ANNOUNCED

For School Board. Next year's school calendar will be on the agenda when the school board meets at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in Community Park, but the board doesn't expect to act on it that night.

Since the original calendar proposal last month, some changes have been suggested. Martin Luther King Day (January 13) has been restored as a holiday. In one version, Veterans' Day (October 28) has been kept as a school day, in another it is a holiday.

One calendar shortens the winter recess from a full week to a five-day "Presidents Week-end." There is a proposal to add a "Schedule Break" (April 25-28) to break the 40-session period from the end of spring vacation and Memorial Day.

Last Day of School?

Wednesday, June 19. That's three days later than originally scheduled, but remember that long Christmas vacation?

Princeton's public schools used up the two allocated "emergency" days (It's old-fashioned to call them "snow" days) because---guess what? It snowed. Then New Jersey came along and told all public schools to add three "energy crisis" days to the Christmas vacation. That meant five days when Princeton's schools weren't in session.

Since there were two days already in the calendar for any emergency, weather or nn, the schools are in debt only three days. Hence the late closing.

Spring recess---April 8-12---remains unchanged.

Princeton High's ventilating system, hazardous and not in line with present building code requirements, will be redone on a temporary basis at a cost of about $16.000. When the whole school is renovated, the ventilating system will be, too, but the board feels it cannot safely allow students to be in the affected part of the building for the two or three years until the end of renovation.

The report of the Human Relations committee will be discussed at Tuesday's meeting.

Retirement Bonus Offered. The board will once again offer to pay teachers a retirement bonus of $2,000 if they retire by June 30 even though they are short of the mandatory retirement age of 71. Last year, reported board president Winthrop Pike, four teachers took this offer.

Overall, the policy saves money, Mr. Pike pointed out. A teacher of many years' experience, well up on the salary scale, is usually replaced by a younger and cheaper teacher, or perhaps not replaced at all.

A WALK THROUGH TIME

..Tour Old Houses. Houses by the 19th-century architect Charles Steadman are Princeton treasures. Half a dozen Steadman houses will be open to the public on a Candlelight Walking Tour sponsored by the Princeton Historical Society. The tour will be held Sunday, April 7, from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Tickets, at $7.50, are on sale at Brainbridge House, headquarters of the Society at 158 Nassau. They will also be available at each house during the tour.

Steadman houses open to the public for the tour are those at 36 Mercer (Mr. and Mrs. Minot C. Morgan Jr.); 40 Mercer (Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Yorke Allen); 19 Alexander (Mrs. Bayard Dodge); 26 Library Place (Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Steele); 72 Library Place (Mr. and Mrs. P.W. Yeatman) and 120 Mercer (Mr. and Mrs. Renssellaer W. Lee).

Also on the tour are a later Victorian building at 13 Edgehill (Mrs. Sara T. Davies, owner) and "The Barracks" at 32 Edgehill, regarded as Princeton's oldest house, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Cuyler. Miller Chapel of Princeton Theological Seminary, originally built in 1833 and moved to its present location 40 years ago, will also be open on the tour.

Refreshments will be served at "The Barracks", and there will be continuous organ music at Miller Chapel.

Mrs. F. Robert Michael is chairman of the fund-raising event. Committee members are Mrs. Bruce French, Mrs. E. Cowenhoven Stuart, Mitchell Matthews, Marshall Posey, Mrs. Hugo Hoogenboom, Mrs. Minot C. Morgan Jr., James Sayen, and Mrs. L. V. Silvester Jr.

Borough Zoning Problems

are now in the CBD. So, on up Tulane, are Verbeyst Cleaners and R.F. Johnson's electric business.

In addition to permitting offices and aprtments, CBD allows retail stores, which the old R-O did not. So, for these shop-owners the new designation simply means they are now conforming, where they weren't before. Makes it less of a hassle if they decide to expand, and helps the selling price if they decide to sell.

A stub-end of street, Lincoln Court, goes in from Tulane. A kind of run-down mews, with old brick apartments and even a pair of single family houses almost hidden from view, Lincoln Court now becomes CBD. This opens the court to possible retail development, which was not allowed before. At Council's hearing last week, Murray Abelson, who owns 5, 7 and 9 Lincoln Court, as well as Allen's Children's Shop, expressed satisfaction that the street would now be CBD. At one time, it was proposed by planners as a reardoor delivery lane for stores on Nassau Street.

The bowling alley, incidentally, is now a conforming use in the Central Business District.

Another Change Tabled. These changes have been accomplished more smoothly than another proposed zoning amendment, also designed in part to Save Our Homes. This is the proposal to change part of the Nassau, Charlton, Olden block from Residential-Office (1) to Residential-Business. A tally shows that 10 dwelling units in five pieces of property could be preserved as homes, if Planning Board and Council act affirmatively.

Neighbors have been objecting, however, and because of their strong protests, raised at the March Planning Board meeting, the ordinance has been set aside for the moment.

John McCarthy, whose law offices are on Charlton, protests that Borough officials never told property-owners in the area what was in the wind. "Failure to communicate," is what he says.

He's disturbed also, because he says there is no written record showing whose idea it was to change the zoning. When he discovered the idea came from a zoning subcommittee of the Planning Board, he says he was told there were no written minutes.

A petition against the change is now being circulated among residents.

Charlton Street, across from St. Paul's Church and off-set from Moore, is a short street which reminds many visitors of well-kept streets in the older parts of London. Distinguished law firms are here—former governor William T. Cahill is now a member of Cahill, McCarthy, Bacsik and Hicks, which has occupied for many years the pleasant yellow-painted frame building at 6-8 Charlton.

The firm of Mason, Griffin and Pierson, municipal attorneys for Borough and Township, is on one Nassau corner. Former townhouses, modest in scale, are now offices for other lawyers or accountants and are scarcely different in appearance from the trim tree-shaded houses that are still homes and apartments for people who live on Charlton.

In an old brick building on the other Nassau corner, where a book-shop once was, is a hairdresser and an answering service. Moving along Nassau toward Olden are homes, either still in private ownership or converted to shared apartments and offices. At 209 Nassau are a pair of apartments and office space; next door, 211 is a private residence; 213 and 215 have two apartments apiece.

An apartment and a photographer at 217; five apartments and a beauty shop at 219; offices at 221-223; a cleaning establishment at 225; two apartments and a store at the Nassau and Olden corner, all testify to the home-business mix of the neighborhood

In addition to keeping these as "dwelling units", the ordinance proposes that the double house at 9-11 Charlton be sliced out of the zone and attached to the adjoining Residential-4. Number 9 houses the law firm of Mezey and Mezey, Number 11 is a private home.

A block away on Olden Street, the ordinance would act in similar fashion on 13-15 Olden, removing this building with its three apartments out of the present Residence-Office (1) and into the adjoining R-4, thereby preserving its apartments as places for people to live.

Where the Money Is. Underlying this shift in zones is a hard economic fact: if you own a building, you can get more money by converting it to office space than by keeping it in apartments. Even if you're content now, living in your own home or renting your building to tenants, you like to think that in the future, you could convert that building to something more profitable, or sell it.

RB zone regulations allow offices or stores, but they can't take up more than 40 percent of the building. The remaining 60 percent must be residential. Various establishments now in the area would remain legal as existing non-conforming uses, but owners who wanted to change would have to go through the complex machinery of a use variance request from the Zoning Board.

This change, unlike the one on Tulane, would make many buildings non-conforming and therefore, presumably, harder to sell. In a nice piece of municipal irony, by the way, the Borough's own lawyer would sit in a con-conforming office.

As Mr. McCarthy pointed out to the Planning Board, his lot at 6-8 Charlton, and one he owns with his sister at 2-4 Charlton, are fully-developed, like most of the lots on Charlton. How could he make it 60 percent residential, assuming he decided on a change? If the building were 80 percent destroyed by fire, the ordinance stipulates he couldn't rebuild unless he allowed 60 percent of the new structure to residential use.

After hearing these objections, the Planning Board—which had conceived the ordinance originally—assigned a sub-committee to re-evaluate it and report back April 2. Planning Board recommendation is required before Borough Council can act.

The third ordinance change, set aside by Council last week to wait for completion of the final Central Business District plan, would assign the Borough's only Residence-Office (2) zone to the CBD.

This zone is almost entirely blacktop parking lots, but it does include the Playhouse theatre, the public library, the Public Service building next to the library, the drive-in bank and Toto's market.

Making it CBD would open the zone to retail stores, which aren't allowed in the R-O-2, unless they already exist there. This means that when Princeton University decides to move ahead with plans to develop the Playhouse blacktop, for example, it can incorporate stores into whatever apartments and offices it may plan.

This final CBD plan, which everybody hoped would be completed by March 1, now has an April 1 completion date (with luck). After it's been handed in from the planner, Richard May, "briefing sessions" with various organizations around town will be held. Then it may or may not be revised. Then, perhaps by the end of May, public hearings.

...naway Car Kills Girl, 3, Injures Her Mother and Another Woman

MUTE TESTIMONY TO TERROR: This toppled mail box and car on the sidewalk a short distance away are evidence of the tragedy Thursday afternoon in front of the University Store in which three pedestrians were struck by a car—one killed instantly. (Staff Photo)

A three-year old Hightstown girl was killed instantly and her mother and another woman remain in Princeton Medical Center for treatment of injuries, following a tragic accident Thursday afternoon in front of the Princeton - University Store.

The mother, Ann Dito, 28, 401 Brookwood Gardens, Hightstown, was admitted to the Center with a fractured right arm, compressed fracture of the seventh cervical vertebrae and scalp lacerations. Colleen Canavin, 24, 24 Charlton Street, was treated and relased for a fracture of the sacrum and subsequently re-admitted to the Medical Center. A spokesman for PMC on Tuesday described the condition of the two as "satisfactory."

Killed instantly when she was pinned between a low stone wall in front of the U-Store and an onrushing car was Bianca Dito. A post-mortem performed by Dr. David A. Fluck, Deputy Medical Examiner for Mercer County, attributed death to "massive abdominal trauma with bisection of the body."

Mrs. Dito's 5-year old son, Brooke, miraculously escaped and was uninjured.

Driver Charged. Ptl. William Hunter, who is conducting the investigation for Borough police, has charged the driver, Edwin O. Kling, 73, Ridge Road, Hopewell, with death by auto and reckless driving. In addition, Ptl. Hunter has announced that he will request that Mr. Kling be re-examined by the state's Motor Vehicle Department.

Death by auto is a misdemeanor in New Jersey and an indictable offense. After being questioned by police, Mr. Kling was released, pending action by a grand jury.

Chief Michael Carnevale described the accident—the first pedestrian fatality in the Borough since 1965—as an "unpredictable tragedy."

The victims were all struck as they were walking on the sidewalk in front of the U-Store a few minutes after 2 p.m. They had no chance to escape.

Accounts of witnesses taken by police report hearing a loud roar as the car, a 1973 Cadillac, leaped across 30-foot wide University Place from the foot of Edward's Place where it had been stopped. Ptl. Hunter's investigation picks up from there.

According to his report, the car continued on at a high rate of speed and jumped the curb. It struck a U.S. mailbox anchored to a small blacktop strip adjacent to the curb, and proceeded across the sidewalk, where it hit the three victims. It next collided with the wall in front of the U-Store, which deflected the direction of the car up the sidewalk where it continued for a short distance before coming to rest. There were no skid marks.

Victims Hurled by Impact. Bianca's torso was thrown 12 feet onto a flagstone esplanade in front of the U-Store; the lower portion landed on top of a small hedge in front of the wall. Mrs. Dito was carried a short distance on the car's hood and then thrown onto the esplanade, a distance of 23 feet. Ms. Canavin was hurled to the opposite end of the esplanade, 51 feet from the point of impact.

Because there is a criminal charge involved, Chief Carnevale said that he would preserve the rules of evidence and declined to reveal statements made by Mr. Kling. He did report that Mr. Kling—alone in the car—was greatly shaken by the tragedy.

Police later removed the car to the Johnson & Ferrara garage on Nassau Street where it was inspected by the Borough mechanic George Clausen for mechanical defects. None was found after examining the car's brakes, steering, transmission, accelerator and motor mounts.

Police responded in three patrol cars after being summoned by a 2:15 call from the U-Store. Police in turn called the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad which sent two ambulances.

Joining Lt. John Bellow and Patrolmen Hunter, Kerry Klink and Joseph Wilhelm at the scene was Douglas Drummond, the meter officer, who participated in the first aid treatment.

A large crowd watched the grim rescue operations and several eye-witnesses were emotionally distraught. Cheif Carnevale reported that even veteran first aid members and police officers were shaken by the grisly scene.

What March will bring
The winter's snow or
Breath of spring

It's been a bit between that for the past ten days—no snow and very little of an advance look at spring. Actually, those somewhat chill temperatures are just above normal, so the disappointment, though real, isn't really justified.

Not much in the wey of mild weather is in store for the rest of the week, the Man admits, and showers are a possibility for both Thursday and Saturday. The long-range forecast for the next fortnight calls for temperatures a bit above normal and less rain than usual.

Spring, incidentally, was scheduled to arrive at 8 p.m. this Wednesday, the University Observatory reported.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE

For Congress. Gertrude W. Dubrovsky, 244 Hawthorne Avenue, has announced her candidacy for the Fifth Congressional District seat. She will enter the Democratic primary in June, where her opponent will be another Princeton resident, Frederick Bohen.

A teacher of Yiddish for the Hillel Foundation at Princeton University, Dr. Dubrovsky has announced that she will campaign on feminist issues and in support of a Congressional prohibition against paid advertising in political campaigns.

"I am concerned about feminism because I have three sons," the candidate declared. "A sincere and dedicated effort must root out sexism from the earliest television programs that tiny children watch, from the school books they are given, from the history lessons which they learn."

Moral corruption in the United States, "is directly related to the politician's need for campaign funds to pay advertising costs," she said. "I think Congress must outlaw paid advertising as a way of selling politicians. ...Elected to Congress, I shall immediately introduce legislation to that effect."

$500 SOFA STOLEN

From Tower Club. A $500 red leather sofa, a pair of speakers valued at $200 and assorted sports equipment worth $57 were reported stolen Sunday from the Tower Club, 13 Prospect Avenue.

Police said that the theft took place between 1:30 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. There were no signs of forced entry.

Between 1 a.m. Sunday morning and 12:20 in the afternoon, someone broke a window to enter the cellar of the Peacock Inn on Bayard Lane. Inside, the intruder entered the barroom where he forced open a cigarette vending machine, taking the cigarettes and emptying the coin box.

The theft was reported by the Inn manager at 2:24 p.m.

Motorcycle Taken. Stuart Freedman of Magie Apartments reported last week to Township police the theft of his red and gold motorcycle which he valued at $1100.

He told police the cycle had been taken from a storage area in the apartment complex.

William Cerra of Parlin listed the theft of two radio speakers from the rear of his small foreign car while it was parked from 7:15 to 10:15 p.m. in a Jadwin Gym lot.

They were valued at $40. Police said that a window had been pried open.

Princeton University student Reid E. Whitlock, 132 Walker Hall, told police that he lost or had stolen $450 in American Express travelers checks while he was in Jadwin Gym from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Det. Samuel Bianco investigated.

CHARGE IS DROPPED

In Death of Nurse. A Mercer County grand jury last week dropped manslaughter charges against a 22-year old "guest" at Tenacre.

The guest, a mental patient at the Christian Science hospital on the Great Road, had been charged in the death of a 71-year old nurse, Miss Juanita Lockwood, who she allegedly pushed to the ground.

According to a police report, the guest allegedly struggled with Miss Lockwood to get the keys to her ward so she could unlock the door and escape. In the scuffle, Miss Lockwood fell to the ground and fractured her skull.

Miss Lockwood died two days later at Tenacre but

Tires, Railroad Ties, Telephone Poles To Be Converted into Playground Use

The Princeton Parks will offer new environmental play equipment in time for summer vacation. To be made out of tractor tires, telephone poles, cargo rope, railroad ties, and the like, it has been designed by the People's Workshop, an architectural organization of undergraduate and graduate students from Princeton University's School of Architecture.

Under the guidance of Princeton architect and professor, Peter Waldman, and headed by graduate student Jamie Wiper, these students will create their designs out of available materials from municipal stockpiles and from donations of business and industry. Funded by the Borough for $3,000, this pilot project will concentrate on the John and Harrison Street parks initially. The equipment will be built by the Engineering Department of the Borough.

Two citizen advisory groups will help the architects determine public needs and opinions. Pam Callard, Susan Jones, Georgia Eliot, Mimi Schwartz and Barbara Sigmund will work with student-architects Vicki Austin, Doug Perley, Vernon Lix, and David Urbanik on the Harrison Street Park designs.

Advisors to the John Street playground include Anne Reeves, Inez Hinds, Joan Hill, John Bailey, Ed McEwen, Len Brown, Penny Tucker and Laura Brooks, director of the John Street playground in the summer. They will work with students Lisa Toberoff, Debbie Weintraub, Marthe Rowen, Glen Pratt, and David Maloney.

Those interested in attending the meetings may call 924-5782 after 7 p.m. for a schedule of meetings. The People's Workshop, which is committed to strong citizen participation in its projects, also has its members canvassing neighborhood response door-to-door, and entering elementary school classrooms to tap the ideas of the parks' biggest users—the 4-12 set.

According to Borough Council member Barbara Sigmund, the idea for this environmental play equipment began in a nearby township. After reading about the People's Workshop's designs for this equipment, she contacted the group, then interested the Borough in the idea...and this new town-gown alliance was begun.

TWO ARE FINED

For Careless Driving. Two Princeton area residents were fined Monday in Borough Court for careless driving.

Victor Pap, 30, 74 Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, paid $25, and David T. Rodweller, 18, 14 Chestnut Street, paid $20. Both pleaded guilty.

ANTIQUES SHOW READY

Opens This Thursday. When the Princeton Antiques Show returns to the Princeton Day School this Thursday, the collections on display will encompass many new areas of interest, especially for younger collectors whose means are moderate. As always, the show, now in its 15th year, is sponsored by the Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey, and all proceeds will go to the college.

Thirty-three dealers will exhibit this year, from New England, the Delaware Valley, the Adirondacks, the midwest, the Maryland Tidewater and the Ohio River Valley. Their collections are often specialized in areas including paperweights, English silver, books and documents, quilts, toys and folk art, scrimshaw ans whaling artifacts, china, barometers, porcelains, oriental rugs, furniture, silver, Chinese antiques, and antique valentines. Dealer participation in this year's show has been arranged by Mrs. H. James Herring and Mrs. Bryce Maxwell.

There are eight new dealers in this year's show, including Houghmaster-Century, specialists in books and pamphlets, and J. Turk Antiques of Little Silver, New Jersey, specialist in Chinese art, furniture, and nineteenth century cloisonne. W.M. Schwind, who has amassed a collection of antique valentines, will exhibit, as will Beverly Lake of Adirondack Memories, with a collection of antique quilts and china.

Theresa and Arthur Greenblatt will display seasonal paperweights and coin silver.

Two Princeton area dealers will participate in the show for the first time; The Calico Cat, located in Kingston, will exhibit furniture, tole and tinware, and prints by Currier and Ives. R.H. Kahn of Princeton will display antique rugs and textiles.

Back Again. Among the familiar faces returning to the show this year are Max Siegel of Covered Bridge Antiques, New York City, with Chinese and English porcelains and reverse glass paintings. Ester Gilbert of Wayland, Maryland, will return with unusual barometers, bellows, and an unusually well-preserved baby's wagon.

Graystone Antiques will show fine antique furniture from 17th and 18th century Europe and England. Lucile Sterling of the Packet Boat will bring a fine collection of scrimshaw, including a sailor-made cabinet trimmed n whalebone, as well as horticultural and sewing tools and a pewter collection.

Discussion on Fake Antiques. Malcolm Stearns, of Hobart House in Haddam, Connecticut, has arranged the panel discussion, "Detecting the Spurious in Antiques", which is scheduled for Friday from 10:30-11:45. The discussion will he set up in dialogue form between two panels, one consisting of dealers who have been defrauded, and the other of collectors who have been flimflammed.

The dealer's panel will include Mr. Stearns, Dewey Curtis, director of Pennsbury Manor; Edward Steckler of

No More House Calls

If you live in the Township and are going on vacation and plan to call Township police to check your house while you're away--don't. Don't call that is.

Chief Frederick Porter announced this week that police will no longer accept requests to check vacant homes over the telephone. Instead, he requested that all residents who wish to have their homes checked during their absence to come to Township Hall and fill out a vacant house card. The cards will be available during working hours at the police administration office or at the police desk during the evening hours.

Chief Porter explained that the change was due to the large number of calls they have received and the resultant paperwork it creates. Taking information over the phone, then typing it on a card creates a hardship for the deskman and interferes with his radio dispatch work, the chief said.

RED LIGHT

Signals Delayed. Shortages in materials used to make traffic lights have "seriously delayed" installation of new signals, the New Jersey Department of Transportation reported this week.

"The Department has received no indication from suppliers when deliveries of components will permit new installations, as previously scheduled," a spokesman said.

For Princeton, this could mean indefinite delays in new traffic signals for the Faculty-Alexander intersection and the Kingston Road-Snowden Lane intersection in the Township, and for new Borough signals at Franklin and Harrison, Prospect and Harrison, Washington and Prospect.

Last fall, reports Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini, Township officials were warned that the state had a three-month backlog of orders, largely due to a shortage of aluminum for signal bases.

The state wants to hold off on new signals until its inventory of components can be raised beyond the minimum requirement for maintaining and repairing existing signals.

NOMINEES SOUGHT

Ry Red Cross. The nominating committee of the Princeton Chapter, American Red Cross, is seeking the names of candidates for its board of directors. In accordance with the chapter's by-laws, names of candidates may be submitted by any member of the chapter. Individuals who have contributed $1 or more, either directly or through the Princeton Area United Community Fund - Red Cross Campaign, are members of the Princeton Chapter.

Offices to be filled are one-year terms for chairman; first, second and third vice-chairmen; secretary, treasurer and assistant treasurer; four three-year terms for board members; one vacancy for a board member to serve to June 30, 1975; and two youth members-at-large to serve for one year.

Nominations may be submitted in writing to the chairman of the nominating committee, Princeton Chapter, American Red Cross, 182 No. Harrison Street, Princeton, on or before April 5.

TO SERVICE HYDRANTS

Annual Spring Check Due. The fire hydrant out at the curb can fill your bathtub in less than nine seconds, but it takes regular maintenance to make sure of this, so the Elizabethtown Water Co. is starting its annual spring check-up of the 8,000 hydrants it services.

The job will take about five weeks and is designed to make sure all equipment is in good working order and in readiness when needed by the fire department. The inspection involves greasing all parts and checking flows to insure adequate water pressures.

Flushing and checking the hydrants in the territories served by Elizabethtown will be accomplished between now and the end of May. All of this will be done after 10 p.m. and before 6 a.m. to avoid traffic interruptions and to eliminate the possibility of young children playing near the hydrants while they are being tested.

Customers may notice a bit of discolored water the morning after testing, but this disappears within a few hours, a water company official said.

Fire hydrants can supply 100 times the volume of water that comes from a garden hose and some hydrants - in large industrial areas - can put forth 5,000 gallons a minute. In contrast, the kitchen sink faucet supplies about 10 gallons a minute.

Clean-Up Week Is Coming!

The householder's semi-annual cellar-to-attic sweep is almost here. Borough and Township will celebrate spring "Clean-up Week" starting Monday, April 1, and continuing through Friday, April 5.

You can leave at curb-side anything one many can carry. Twigs and branches must be tied with rope or twine—no wire. Put leaves and lawn debris in plastic bags.

Borough collections will be on regular garbage days.

Township collection will be by Election District, but but on a different schedule from the hi-weekly recycling pick-up. Whatever you want picked up should be at curbside by 8 a.m. Starting Monday, April 1, the pick-up will be as follows:

Monday: Districts 1, 4
Tuesday: 5, 6, 10
Wednesday: 3, 9, 12
Thursday: 2, 11
Friday: 7, 8, 13

Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy

Times to Remember

Rose Kennedy's own story of the Fitzgeralds and the Kennedys, her busy and full life, and of the many people she has known. This is a rich book covering the events of over eight decades, making use of thousands of family pictures, almost none of which has ever appeared in print. It is an unusual memoir because the children—Ted, Eunice Shriver, Pat Lawford, Jean Smith—have all contributed their versions of various stories. The result is a full and varied book—candid and beautifully written.

Rose Kennedy is the daughter of a prominent Boston politician, wife of a diplomat, mother of one President and two Presidential hopefuls.

Princeton Junction. This Monday, Township Committee passed a similar resolution, pointing out that more than 1,000 passengers a day ride the shuttle train.

Council also made three appointments to civilian agencies: Edward Sweeney, to the Joint Commission on Aging; Barbara Hill to the Joint Civil Rights Commission and John Huntoon to the Joint Transportation Commission.

PLAN AHEAD

With Community Calendar. Staging a successful community event takes months of planning and execution, so organizations must know a long time ahead precisely what the date of the event will be. Pick a wrong date, and you'll have an empty house.

A year-round Community Calendar has been in the "new books" section of the Princeton Public Library since September, and if you're chairman of anything from a quilt-in to the all-encompassing Art People party, this is the place to check out your date.

If you've found a vacant Saturday—let's say in July—you tell the librarian about and your event will be recorded in the calendar on the proper date, warning others who may have wanted that Saturday.

The hardest problem, librarians say, is the inevitable change that nobody remembers to tell the library about. The calendar doesn't supply the kind of last-minute information available in a newspaper's Calendar of the Week nor in around-town posters, notices and the weekly schedule of University activities.

If you use the calendar to decide where you want to go on Tuesday night, the library advises you to check the newspapers or telephone the sponsoring organization to make sure the event is being held.

BEHIND THE COMMUNITY CALENDAR: If you're planning any kind of Princeton community event, you need the long-range view of the Community Calendar at the Princeton Public Library, where you can see at a glance what's scheduled months ahead. Here, Mrs. Thomas Raser, chairman of the June Fete, Mrs. Peter Budd and—far right—Anne Reeves of the Princeton Arts Council scan the future. Mrs. Reeves is chairman of the Art People Party, due on May 11.

YOUTH IS ARRESTED

In Wallet Theft. A 20-year old East Windsor Township young man has been arrested in connection with the theft of a wallet March 8 from the office of Adlerman, Click, real estate and insurance firm on Spring Street. The victim lost $19.60.

Charged with larceny is Bruce A. Renaud of Rocky Brook Road. He is being held in Mercer County Jail on a detainer. Det. Timothy Huizing signed the charge.

MALL PLANS SNAGGED

Over Wells. Did you hear about the two holes in the ground? Well, well.

That old joke isn't so funny to the Rouse Company which has plans to build a $30 million shopping mall, "Hopewell Center" on a 190-acre tract near the Route 31 Pennington Circle.

Robert Force, field inspector for Hopewell Township's health board, discovered that engineering and well-digging subcontractors for Rouse have dug two wells without receiving approval from the Township's Board of Health.

A hearing scheduled before Judge Robert F. Moore was later postponed at the request of attorneys for the subcontractors. The wells were allegedly dug before January 3 but had received state approval January 23 from the state Department of Water Resources.

Completion of the proposed shopping center is scheduled for 1976.

SKATERS TO COMPETE

Saturday in Baker Rink. The Princeton Skating Club will end its 1973-74 season with a club competition at Baker Rink on Saturday at 12:15. The event is open to the public free of charge.

Forty-one skaters, from 8 years of age to adult, will be participating in the ten free skating and dance events. Compulsory figures will start at 12:15 with the free skating portion of the individual events scheduled for approximately 2. This will be followed by the Junior and Adult Dance events.

Individual events are arranged by the level of United States Figure Skating Association figure tests passed, ranging from Pre-Preliminary through Senior. Medals will be awarded to winners of 1st, 2nd and 3rd place in individual events. Only a first prize medal will be awarded for the dance competitions.

The competition will be judged by Brooks Steward of the Wissahickon Skating Club and Mrs. E. Clarence Kern and Mrs. Freeman G. Craw of the Essex Skating Club. Mrs. Stewart will serve as chief accountant with Oleg Stroukoff of the North Jersey Figure Skating Club as referee.

Jane Fuller is chairman of the 1974 Princeton Skating Club Competition. Working with her on the planning committee are Shirley Hertting, Carolyn Hill and Betsy Crosson.

Bikes For Boys

For the second consecutive year, the Borough police department is giving stolen or lost bicycles that have been unclaimed to the N.J. Training School for Boys in Skillman. About 20 bikes are involved.

Chief Michael Carnevale said that the transaction had been arranged by Mrs. Geoffrey Sage of Princeton, a worker at the school. "The police department," he said, "is happy to participate in giving something to a constructive program—the rehabilitation of youngsters."

TO BENEFIT VASSAR

Garden "Log." "Therefore all seasons shall be sweet to thee...." Quotations, like this one from Coleridge, and others from Emerson, Shakespeare and Milton along with a good bit of practical poetry about when to apply fertilizer, appear in "The Gardener's Diary," now available for sale to benefit the Vassar College Scholarship Fund.

The green and white diary, bright as a new leaf, is actually a three-year log. Each week in the year has a page. At the top are hand-printed suggestions for gardening that particular week. (Houseplant care is included, too). Below are three broad spaces, as happily empty and full of promise as a field not yet planted. Write your observations and memoranda in the top space. Next year write your 1975 observations for that same week, in the space below and so on.

A year-'round calendar, "The Gardener's Diary" was itself a year-long project. Members of The Vassar Club of Central New Jersey began to plan it about 11 months ago. The spiral-bound volume was designed and executed by Mrs. J. High M. Bever, who also did all the green botanical drawings and the lettering.

Mrs. John Heher has served as chairman for the diary, and Mrs. Francis H. Dyckman is now chairman of the scholarship benefit. The Diary committee consists of Mrs. Richard Baker, Mrs. Maurice F. Healy Jr., Mrs. Frederick E. Crispin Jr., Mrs. Roger R. Davis, Mrs. George C. Easter, Mrs. Richard N.B. Jesser and Mrs. Carl W. Schulze.

Cost of producing the diary was underwritten by club members. "The Gardener's Diary" will be on sale each Friday at the French Market opposite TOWN TOPICS. The market will open in mid-April.

It will also be available May 7 at the May Market of the Stony Brook Garden Club, at the Princeton Day School Fair and in the Junior League Show House, Bucks County. Price is $4.73, including sales tax.

It may also be ordered by mail at $5.48 from Mrs. Joseph E. Bachelder III, 226 Constitution Drive, Princeton, N.J.

WANT EXTRA INCOME? A temporary or part-time job may be the answer. Read the Help Wanted ads in this issue of TOWN TOPICS for a varied selection of opportunities open to you.

GARDENING FOR VASSAR: "The Gardener's Diary," in living green and white, is the creation of members of the Vassar Club of Central New Jersey. Mrs. J. Hugh M. Bever (left) and Mrs. John Heher are holding a copy, but they'd rather sell one than hold onto one because proceeds from the sale of the $4.50 calendar will go to Vassar's college scholarship fund.

No Shortage of Library Books; Read One and Conserve Energy

No gas in the tank so you can't go anywhere and it's nasty out anyway, and you've seen all the television shows, so why not read?

Robert Staples, who always has plenty of really good books to read because he's Princeton's librarian, has suggested the books listed below. Put on your slippers and robe, turn down the thermostat and welcome the Ides of March with:

"Eye of the Storm," by Patrick White. He's the Nobel Prize winner, Mr. Staples finds his latest novel marked by acute detail, and he observes that it's "a telling story of loneliness...beautiful writing."

"An unbelieveable and beautiful guide"...that's the librarian's comment on "The International Book of Trees", by Hugh Johnson. It's a guide to the major garden and forest trees of the world, describing their cell structure, their life cycles and their places in history.

Two books with exceptional illustrations make good companions for fireside reading. One is Wanda Corn's "Art of Andrew Wyeth," containing an interview with the artist and essays by such people as Richard Meryman and Brian O'Doherty. Some of the pictures are in book form for the first time.

The other volume is "Nantucket Island," by Robert Gambee. It has more than 200 "exceptional" (a Staples quote) black and white photographs of the island. Pictures and text capture the unique beauty of Nantucket, "and make us aware of the need to keep the island as it is," Mr. Staples say emphatically.

If you've been reading the foreign news columns, you'll be interested in "The English," in which J.B.Priestly underscores the "never-say-die" qualities of a sturdy people. The book surveys the English scene from the Middle Ages until today.

The library's librarian also recommends some of the best-sellers you know about already. In fiction, "Facing the Lions," by Tom Wicker; "Burr," by Gore Vidal (did you know Burr is buried in Princeton?); Thornton Wilder's "Theophilus North" (an episodic, comfortable old story, just right for a winter weekend) and "Honorary Consul," by Graham Greene, a novel of philosophical intrique which Mr. Staples thinks is Greene's best since "Heart of the Matter."

Over on the non-fiction side, there's "Portrait of a Marriage," by Nigel Nicolson—that's the one about his parents—Lillian Hellman's autobiographical "Pentimento" and Erich Fromm's "The Anatomy of Human Destructiveness."

31 NEW EAGLE SCOUTS

For Troop 50. An "Eagle Court of Honor" was held by Princeton Scout Troop 50 Thursday night at Trinity Episcopal Church. Senior Patrol Leader Alexander Robertson conducted the ceremonies.

Harold Crane, Jr., Scoutmaster of the troop for 14 years, congratulated new Eagle Scouts William M. Crane, Alexander Robertson and Stephen Soffen, as the boys' mothers each pinned on the Eagle medal, highest in Scouting. Former recipients of the Eagle award in January, Gene Keller and Burry Kessler, were on hand to welcome their new Eagle brothers.

More than 75 parents and relatives were in attendance in addition to the forty members of Troop 50 to witness the ceremonies. Other Scouts receiving awards were Steven Cundiff and Richard Chenoweth, First Class; John Wallace and Bruce Hasting, Second Class; and Richard Boone, Paul Heinzel, Andrew Lesh, James Noble and Scott Soffen, Tenderfoot Badge.

Various merit badges, twenty-four of which are required for the rank of Eagle, were presented to Bill Roessel, James Noble, David Caulton, Michael Caulton, Paul Heinzel, Scott Soffen, Tray Warman and Richard Boone.

RENT INCREASE?

First Hearing Set. The Borough's first landlord applicant for a "hardship" rent increase will appear for a public hearing Monday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall before the Rent Levelling Board.

The applicant is Helen Van Cleve who owns two apartments in a building at 9 Mercer Street. She has applied for permission to raise the rents $25 to take care of the increased costs of routine maintenance.

The case is regarded as significant by Jane Kerney, the Borough's rent control officer. She points out that many properties are changing owners in the Borough these days. An old building whose owners may have no mortgage, may house tenants who pay relatively low rents. But a new owner with a large mortgage may have to raise rents to survive.

SCHOLARSHIPS OFFERED

..Through College Club. The Women's College Club is dedicated to raising funds for scholarship aid for qualified girls accepted for their freshman year by an accredited four-year college. Grants are made on the basis of financial need, high scholastic standing, leadership activities and promise of service.

Funds for the awards come from members' dues and donations, as well as from a yearly Scholarship Dessert Card Party and White Elephant. The club also maintains an interest-free Memorial Loan Fund, which is available to girls who have completed their freshman year in an accredited college. Applications may be obtained from Miss Jeanne Godolphin, 309 Snowden Lane, 921-7628.

Serving on the scholarship committee are Mrs. Richard Cobb, Mrs. Juan Figueroa, Mrs. Thomas Hartmann and Mrs. J. Robert Hillier, chairman. Miss Godolphin is chairman of the Memorial Loan Fund

FERTILIZER ON SALE

From West Windsor Lions. The West Windsor Lions, hoping to promote the ecology theme by selling 100 percent organic fertilizer during their annual spring sale, have been told that it would not be available because of the shortage of bags in which to put the fertilizer. The Lions will, however, still sell three other varieties.

First, they have a 50 percent organic 10-6-4 fertilizer which they say is excellent for lawns, trees, shrubs and gardens. It comes in a 50-pound bag and covers 5,000 square feet.

Next, they have an inorganic mixture of 20-10-5 for trees, shrubs, lawns and gardens. It comes in a 22-pound bag and covers 5,000 square feet.

The Lions are also featuring a "Weed and Feed" combination made for lawns which allows the lawn to be fed and THREE BOROUGH POLICEMEN PROMOTED: In ceremonies Friday in Borough Hall, three policemen, who had been promoted to higher ranks, were sworn in by Borough Administrator Robert Mooney. Theodore Lewis (second from right) became the department's first captain, and will be the chief administrative officer of the 29-member force. John J. Bellow (center) was promoted to lieutenant and will be the line officer in charge of all uniform personnel. Thomas Michaud (second from left), a former patrolman-detective, was advanced to sergeant, and will be in charge of one of the department's five patrols. The new officers were congratulated by Police Commissioner Joseph Moore (right) and Chief Michael Carnevale (left). Capt. Lewis joined the department in 1952, Lt. Bellow in 1960 and Sgt. Michaud in 1966.

the weeds eliminated in one application. "Weed and Feed" is packaged in a 20-pound bag and covers 5,000 square feet.

For each ten bags ordered, the Lions Club will give one free. The fertilizer will be available on April 6 at the Dey barn at the corner of Sherbrooke and Hightstown Road. Fertilizer may be ordered from the following Lions: Grovers Mill, Ron Macpherson, 799-1555; Penns Neck, Alton Clark, 452-2917; Berrien City, Ed Atkinson, 799-0523; Colonial Park, Elmer Fry, 799-0469; Edinburg, Bud Wetterling, 448-1404; Princeton Ivy, Shep Bell, 799-2312; Dutch Neck, Orie Tuck, 799-1685; Bernt Midland, 799-1642; or Sal Fascetta, 799-2080.

MAYA FILM READY

From Princeton Producers. "Mystery of the Maya," filmed on the Yucatan peninsula by Princeton filmmakers Hugh and Suzanne Johnston, will be shown on Channel 13 at 8 p.m. Monday, April 1, as the "Special of the Week." Gillett Griffin, curator of pre-Columbian art at Princeton University, also appears in the film.

In the documentary, the contemporary culture of Central American people is juxtaposed against the earlier Maya civilization which produced outstanding cultural and scientific achievements 1,000 years before Columbus.

Highlight of the film is the re-discovery of Temple B, a large, beautiful and exceptionally well-preserved example of classical Mayan architecture, located in the jungle of Rio Bec on the Yucatan Peninsula in southeast Mexico. In 1912, the discovery of this temple, abandoned by the Maya Indians more than 1,000 years ago, created a sensation in archeological circles. Subsequent explorers, however, were unable to find the temple.

It was rediscovered in May, 1973 by the Johnstons and a small group of explorers during the filming of this documentary. The actual, unrehearsed rediscovery is the dramatic high point and climax of the TV program. The film asks how the Maya could create Temple B without metal tools or the wheel.

"Mystery of the Maya" was filmed in the Yucatan peninsula and on the highlands of Guatemala and southern Mexico—where most of the 2 million Maya Indians live today—as well as in the now-uninhabited, hot, lowland jungles call "el Peten" where the Maya lived in ancient times.

The film visits a Maya market in southern Mexico, showing the Indian technique of carrying heavy loads by supporting the weight with a tumpline around the forehead. The narrator makes a connective link between this custom and the past stating, "the ancient Maya conceived of each day as a god, who would use the tumpline to carry in the burden, and the beauty, of a new day."

Other aspects of the Maya cultural past and present are pictured. Subjects include religious rituals, ceremonial dress, family customs, domestic and agricultural utensils and procedures of everyday life. The program also explores "el Peten," the land on which the ancient civilization once thrived. Existing here are orchids, birds and insects of infinite variety and dozens of other forest creatures.

A DAY FOR CELEBRATION: It was a day for celebration for Theodore H. Lewis, 25 Lytle Street, and members of his family. Friday, Mr. Lewis, who joined the Borough police in 1952, became that department's first captain. He will be chief administrative officer. A graduate of Springfield (Mass.) College, he became sergeant in 1966 and lieutenant in 1972. Members of his family attending the swearing-in ceremony are, from left: Jan, a daughter; George, a brother; Frederick, a son; and Mrs. Jo Barbour, a daughter. Capt. Lewis holds his three-year-old grandson, James Barbour III.

ART AUCTION PLANNED

In Pennington March 29. The League of Women Voters of Hopewell Valley will sponsor its second annual International Art Auction and Exhibit at St. James Church, Eglantine Avenue, Pennington, Friday evening, March 29. The auction is under the direction of Art Guild Gallery of Smithtown, N.Y., which offers a certificate of authenticity and a seven-year exchange plan on any piece of art sold.

The art may be examined prior to the sale from 7-8 p.m., when Gallery personnel will be available to answer questions. The auction will begin at 8.

The sale will feature more than 150 pieces of art, including works by Chagall, Picasso and Dali. The original oils, lithographs, watercolors and etchings are all framed. A selection of sculpture will also be auctioned.

A donation of $1.50 includes hors d'oeuvres, which will be served throughout the evening.

PUPPET SHOW PLANNED

Saturday, March 30. The Forest Friends Puppets will entertain children on Saturday, March 30, at the Nassau Presbyterian Church.

Tickets are 75 cents for performances at 10, 11, 1:30 and 2:30. Seating is limited and tickets may be reserved by calling 799-1472, 921-2840 or 924-2810. The Forest Friends Puppet Production is sponsored by the Presbyterian Cooperative Nursery School which is now accepting registrations for 2, 3 and 4 year olds for 1974-75. If interested, call Elsa Soderberg at 921-3863.

If you like what we're doing for someone else's lawn...
you'll love what we do for yours!
No two lawns are exactly the same. That's why your Lawn Doctor specialist gives you customized service, tailored to your lawn's own unique needs. Because what's right for your neighbor's may not be right for yours.
Your neighbor may have a chickweed problem. Or armyworms. But your lawn's worst enemy may be fungus, grubs or crabgrass. So Lawn Doctor chemically analyzes your lawn before designing a customized program.
Take advantage of our special introductory offer. It includes one application of seed, two kinds of top-quality fertilizer, power aeration and rolling, and you get all this, including labor — for 4,000 square feet — for only $24.95. (Each additional 1,000 square feet, $5 extra.) That's practically what you'd pay for the seed and materials alone!

THE FAMILY WITH 16 WHEELS: It's the Blairs, all eight of 'em, out for a week-end bike hike. The idea is to remind Princeton cyclists of the new bike routes (see that sign?) and to encourage everybody to ride the routes every day and Sundays. After all—each of the six Blair kids bikes to school, one of them all the way from the family home at 1008 Princeton-Kingston Road, to Stuart Country Day. Left to right are Maria (Princeton High); David Blair, father of the clan, a research scientist at Esso Research and Engineering; Barbara, also PHS, Rosemary Blair, mother of the Blairs and art co-ordinator for the Princeton public schools; Amanda (John Witherspoon School); David (Littlebrook); Karen (Stuart); and Rachel (Littlebrook). (Pryde Brown Photo)

Come to Bus Meeting

Tell them how you feel about the proposed bus routes for Princeton. A public meeting to hear all kinds of opinions will be held in Borough Hall at 8 p.m. this Thursday.

Both Princetons have introduced the necessary ordinances to get a Dial-A-Ride service going. Taxi drivers, meeting in a special session last week with Borough officials, recorded their protests to Dial-A-Ride. Administrator Robert F. Mooney pointed out that the taxi owners themselves can also apply for a Dial-A-Ride license; however, the 50 cent rate would probably be a deterrent.

SCHOLARSHIPS OFFERED

To Class of '74 at PHS. Application blanks for scholarship aid to be administered by the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation to the Princeton High School Class of 1974 are now available in the PHS guidance office. Seniors or graduating juniors who need financial assistance are invited to fill out the applications which must be returned personally to Mrs. Ethel N. Thomas in the guidance office by the close of school on Friday, March 29.

Mrs. Henry Freedman is president of the Foundation which was founded by the PTO to assist PHS graduates who desire further education or training and where total financial aid is not likely to be met by any other agency. Funds are raised by the Foundation and administered by the Scholarship Awards Committee, which this year is under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. William F. Besser and Mrs. W. Brinton Whitall.

Any senior or graduating junior who applies will be considered, whether planning to go to college or technical, vocational or business school.

TWO DEANS ON TV

Princetonians on Channel 7. Dean of Student Affairs Adele Simmons and Dean of the College Neil Rudenstine will discuss Princeton "Present and Future" in a special show on WABC-TV, Channel 7, on Friday from 6:30 to 7 a.m.

In one of a series of such shows on New York area colleges, the two deans will take up both academic and non-academic issues in their discussion with the show's moderator, Joseph F. Callo, Adjunct Associate Professor of Communication Arts at St. John's University. The series of five shows is being produced by St. John's under the direction of Winston L. Kirby of that University's Television Center.

DONOR LUNCHEON SET

Princeton Hadassah. The annual Hadassah Donor affair will be a luncheon at Green Acres Country Club in Lawrenceville on Thursday, March 28. A sherry hour will begin at 11:30.

Luncheon will be followed by a tribute to the late Prime Minister of Israel, David Ben Gurion, presented by Mrs. William Engler, Mrs. Harold Staras and Mrs. Melvin Schulman. Musical selections will be played by guitarist Courtney Colletti. Applegate Florist of Palmer Square will provide the table decorations and door prizes will be a part of the program.

The proceeds will benefit the Hadassah Medical Organization, the largest medical complex in the Middle East, responsible for all phases of healing and medical teaching and research. The specific item to be purchased from funds raised is a kidney dialysis machine for the hospital.

Reservations may be made by sending check made out to Princeton Hadassah for $36 or multiples thereof, to Mrs. Herbert Horowitz, 14 Jeffrey Lane, Princeton Junction, 08550. Babysitting and car pool arrangements can be made through Mrs. Peter Nathan, 921-3837.

Co-Chairmen for the affair are Mrs. Herbert Horowitz and Mrs. Peter Nathan. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Martin Rossman, Mrs. Richard Friedman, Mrs. William Engler and Mrs. Burton Baum.

If you like the idea of having your cake and eating it too, the new 2.0-liter Porsche 914 should be very appealing.

Not only does this superbly engineered sports car get an incredible 29 miles to the gallon, but if you figure in the fuel tank capacity (16.4 gallons) you could conceivably travel from New York to Washington and back on one tank of gas!

All this economy while you're driving in style in one of the finest handling cars ever designed.

With its mid-engine balance and rack-and-pinion steering, the Porsche 914 is renowned for its cornering ability and for hugging the road.

And with the big fuel-injected 2.0-liter engine (that Porsche engineers specially developed), coupled to a 5-speed gearbox, even 50 miles an hour can't take the fun out of driving.

3 DIRECTORS NAMED

At New Jersey National. New Jersey National Bank of Princeton, 194 Nassau Street, has announced that Samuel M. Kind, Robert H. Schafer and Douglas F. Wulffleff were elected to the board of directors at the bank's annual meeting Tuesday.

Seven directors were re-elected: John D. Wallace, chairman; Emil W. Lehmann, chairman of Princeton Applied Research; Richard G. Macgill, chairman of New Jersey National Corporation; Mary T. Murray, civic leader; Robert E. Sibson, president of Sibson & Co.; Ralph L. Stout, president of New Jersey National Bank of Princeton; and Hugh D. Wise, Jr., partner, Smith, Stratton, Wise & Heher.

Mr. Kind, owner of LaVake Jewelers at 54 Nassau Street, has been associated with that firm since 1953. He is a graduate of Valley Forge Military Academy and holds a BA degree from Rutgers. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Advisory Board of McCarter Theatre and is a director of Greenacres Country Club.

Mr. Schafer, a life-long resident of Princeton, is vice-president and treasurer of Cooper & Schafer, a Princeton roofing contracting firm. He has been associated with that company for 28 years. A member of Princeton Rotary Club, Hopewell Valley Golf Club and Princeton Hook & Ladder Fire Co., Mr. Schafer is also a Past Master of Princeton Lodge 38 F & AM and former chief of the Princeton Fire Department.

Mr. Wulffleff is President of New Jersey National Corporation. He holds a BA degree from Hobart College, an MBA degree from New York University, and is a graduate of Stonier Graduate School of Banking of Rutgers University. He is active in civic and community affairsand is a resident of Princeton.

New Jersey National Bank of Princeton, a wholly-owned subsidiary of New Jersey National Corporation, was opened in February 1973. The bank, which currently has assets of over $6,000,000, provides a complete range of both retail and commercial banking services.

MORE BUS SERVICE

To Mercer Companies. Starting this Thursday, March 21, bus service will be provided to Western Electric Engineering Research Center, Corporate Education Center, Educational Testing Service, and E. R. Squibb through expansion of the "P" Princeton route. Buses serving these facilities will be clearly marked "Carter Road." Schedules are available from bus drivers and Mercer Metro. The "P" Princeton bus is also being rescheduled to allnw greater running time, because increasing traffic has made it impossible for drivers to run on schedule.

Another commuter service will be an extension of the "T" Mercerville route to the RCA David Sarnoff Research Center on Route One. This route already serves American Cyanamid, Public Service and Shell Chemical, all on Quaker Bridge Road.

Daniel P. Mennella, executive director of the Mercer County Improvement Authority, noted that there are about 1,000 employees from the Trenton area working for these companies.

"By using mass transportation facilities, these employees will cooperate in the nationwide crusade to control air pollution and to curtail automobile traffic which causes congestion on our roads and highways," Mr. Mennella said.

RECORD SET AT ADR

Revenues, Net Higher. Applied Data Research, software computer firm whose headquarters are on State Road 206, has reported record revenues for the year ending December 31. The figure of $10,850,457 is up 24 percent over the previous 12 months.

The firm's pre-tax profits were $797,262, providing per share earnings of 32 cents. The figure for 1972 was 7 cents.

In reporting on the company's 1973 results, President John Bennett cited continuing strong progress in software product sales, improved sales and earnings of its STAR hardware product line and general improvement in overall operations. ADR stock is traded on the American Exchange.

AGENCY CHANGES HANDS

Carnegie Realty Sold. Kenneth L. Ostheim is the new president and owner of Carnegie Realty, Inc., which he has purchased from Edward E. Faroe.

Mr. Ostheim, a Plainsboro resident, retired from U.S. Steel after more than 20 years in its Accounting and Financial Analysis Department. He began his real estate activities in Princeton in 1971.

Carnegie Realty recently moved to new quarters at 130 Nassau Street in the Princeton Savings and Loan Building.

Mr. Faroe, a graduate of Princeton in 1949, will be associated with the Southward Corp., dealing in properties in Pinehurst, N.C.

YALE IS COMING TO PRINCETON
On Saturday, April 6th First Jersey Savings & Loan Association will open a new office in Princeton. It will be our 18th since we were founded back in 1905, and we're really proud of this one. Come in and you'll find that we're still paying the highest interest rates available anywhere, and they're not available everywhere. We also have more convenient banking hours, including on Saturdays, to make saving even easier.
All this for you . . . and just because our President is a Yale man, we hope you won't hold it against us.

MUSICIAN CITED: James Bernard Kannan, Director of Music at St. Paul's Church and a music teacher at Slackwood Elementary School, Princeton Pike, has been selected as an "Outstanding Educator In America" for 1973-74, in the latest edition of that publication. A graduate of Westminster Choir College, Mr. Kannan is director of St. Paul's Choir and Congregation and Senior Cantor. He is also a private instructor of voice and piano.

Sermon Given in University Chapel Reports On Many Ways It Has Served This Community

The Princeton University Chapel, ministering to a congregation of many denominations and constantly changing faces, has provided the Princeton community with a wide array of guest preachers—some clergymen, some not. Delivering the sermon in the chapel March 10 was Irving Dilliard, former newspaperman and Professor Emeritus of Journalism at Princeton University.

Mr. Dilliard described the role of the Chapel in the Princeton community in the introduction of his sermon, exceprts of which appear below.

It is pretty well established by now, that is, after 1973 and thus far into 1974, that almost anybody can become President of the United States. Similarly at this mnment you are seeing it demonstrated that almost anyone can mount these steps to speak at Sunday worship in the Princeton University Chapel.

I make the latter statement not to lift myself up and most assuredly not to lower the level of this eminent pulpit. I say it because I believe that within reasonable limits it is true. I believe that according to fair guidelines, Dean Ernest Gordon desires that the Princeton University Chapel shall reflect a wide range in American religious thinking and speaking. Certainly that was so in the vigorous decade when I was an active and grateful member of the Faculty.

Words of Challenge. My reading of the Dean's intentions I base on first-hand experience. In that 10-year span from 1963-1973, I often sat where you are sitting now. Frequently it was to hear words of challenge from the good Dean himself. Time and time the thought came to me that it was no accident that he survived the prison camp on the Kwai. He lasted through that ordeal, I grew to see, in order that he might be ministering to the Princeton University community a quarter century later.

But thanks to the long reach of Dean Gordon's subpoena power, he was only one of many I came to the Chapel to be instructed by, to be disturbed by, to be reassured by, to be made uncomfortable by, to be excited by, to be cheered by, to be inspired by. Doubtless some of you were here when Dr. George F. Kennan told us why he has hope for our country, for our society, for our age. I have not forgotten the message of good will and encouragement from Princeton's world-renowned diplomat-scholar-author. Neither have many others who joined in that memorable hour.

What I wish I could do this morning would be to assemble a procession of representative speakers who have occupied this pulpit in the half century since the Princeton University Chapel opened its doors. If each could pause for a few seconds and share a shining thought from those messages over the changing years what an intellectual and spiritual treasure it would be!

The distinguished line would include women as well as men, from around the world, of all races; Jews, Catholics and Protestants of nearly every denomination; laymen along with wearers of the cloth. We would hear Harry Emerson Fosdick and Reinhold Niebuhr and Henry Van Dusen; Sister Elizabeth and Bishop Sheen and Bishop Pike; President James McCord from our neighbor, the Princeton Theological Seminary, and Senator Mark Hatfield from Oregon; Ernest T. Campbell, David H. C. Read and John B. Coburn; and from the Faculty, John Turkevich, Horton Davies, John Marks, and many, many more.

Mystification. Yet there are other ways in which these walls, these windows, these carvings became a part of me. I remember so well my first time in this soaring edifice. Every seat was filled and the voice we listened to was that of Dwight D. Eisenhower dedicating the Dulles Library. I remember the throng that packed even the aisles in protest against the enlargement of the Indochinese war to include peaceful Cambodia. As it happened I sat by a group of Russian visitors and I saw their mystification at American reliance on constitutional rights—freedom of assembly, freedom of speech, freedom to petition our Government for a redress of grievances, and, let it be said, also freedom of religion.

Then there were the services in memory of Faculty associates in appreciation of their works in class and seminary and laboratory.... Nor must I over look the times too numerous to count when en route from McCosh to Firestone or vice versa I stopped by and listened to Carl Weinrich or one of his young disciples at the organ—or sat in the Chapel's magnificent silence and went away rested and with lighter step. And I see again as if it were happening now, one simple ceremony when a mother and a father watched their daughter enter into a new life through the sacrament of marriage.

Thus could I fill my allotted time with memories of this holy place and as well all the time in the worship hour. Then I could continue afterward were anyone to remain with me.

Obituaries

Charles H. Pillon, 52, of Honeybrook Drive, died March 16 in Princeton Medical Center. He was the civic and governmental affairs manager for the Ford Motor Company in four states.

An army veteran of World War II, Mr. Pillon was a graduate of Wayne University in Detroit, where he was born, and had lived here for the past three years. He was a member of the State Chamber of Commerce, N.J. Manufacturers Association, N.J. Safety Council, Better Business Bureau of Central Jersey, Trenton-Mercer County Chamber of Commerce, Sportsman-Industry Conservation Council and the N.J. Lawyers Legislative Committee.

He is survived by his wife, Pearl H. Pillon; five sons, Craig, Charles H. Jr., Mark, and John at home and Jeffrey of Michigan; a daughter, Nancy, at home; three brothers, Richard and Elfred of Detroit and Gregory of Florida.

The funeral was held at the Wilson Funeral Home, Pennington Circle, followed by a Mass of Christian Burial at St. Paul's Church. Burial was in Ewing Cemetery.

Walter R. Lewis, 64, of Pennington-Harbourton Road, Pennington, died March 17 in Trenton's Helene Fuld Hospital.

A lifelong resident of the area, Mr. Lewis was born in Hopewell Township and was retired from the O.E. Lewis Construction Company. He was a member of the Lions Club, Hopewell Lodge 155, F & AM, the Pleasant Valley Vigilantes Society and the L.X. Club of Pennington.

He is survived by his wife, Mamie Atchley Lewis; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Hahn of Yardley, Pa.; his mother, Mrs. O.E. Lewis of Lambertville; two brothers, Maurice of Lambertville and Albert of New Hope, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. LeRoy Steepy of West Trenton and three grandchildren.

Services were held at the Blackwell Memorial Home, Pennington, with the Rev. Stuart Snedeker of Linvale Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in Harbourton Cemetery.

Ivan O. Hill, 64, of 473 Quaker Bridge Road, died March 13 at the Princeton Medical Center.

He was born in Eureka, Calif., and resided in this area for 19 years. He was employed as a caretaker for the past 11 years.

banks, and 289th among the 14,000 commercial banks in the country. Record earnings of $1.08 per share were reported for the year ending December 31, an increase of 27 percent over the previous year.

Franklin State has also expanded its concepts by forming four subsidiary corporations: Franklin Armored Corp., Franklin Commercial Corp., Franklin Data Information Corp., Franklin Mortgage Company; and a new division, the Franklin State Money Shop, which has an office at 20 Nassau Street.

"Offhand, Franklin Township in Somerset County might have been overlooked for its growth potential in the Garden State ten years ago," states the report. It goes on to say, "The township in the early 1960's was still predominantly rural.

"Farms and truck gardens dotted the landscape. In an area approximately as large as Manhattan Island there was one bank. Stretching from Rutgers to Princeton Universities, the township had not yet felt the full thrust of the population explosion which was to convert it into a suburban metropolis in less than a decade."

DIRECTOR NAMED

At RCA, Alfred H. Teger has been appointed head of the Advanced Systems Research Group at the RCA Laboratories in Princeton. Mr. Teger's group is concerned with the development of programs for advanced electronic data processing systems.

A native of New York, Mr. Teger received an A.B. degree in 1961 and a B.S. degree in Electrical Engineering in 1962 from Columbia University. He joined RCA Laboratories as a Member of the Technical Staff in 1962. RCA awarded him a David Sarnoff Fellowship for 1964-65 and he received a Master's degree in Computer Science from the University of Pennsylvania in 1965.

He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Eta Kappa Nu, the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, and the Association for Computing Machinery. He is also a member of the Princeton Fencing Club and has served as Director and Internal Vice President of the Princeton Jaycees.

Mr. Teger is married to the former Sandra L. Michael of Brooklyn. They live at 16 Merion Place, Lawrenceville, and have two children, Allison, 7, and Michael, 4.

SALES UP, NET LOWER

At Applied Research, Princeton Applied Research Corporation (PARC) achieved record sales last year of $7.1 million, up 16 percent from the prior year.

Net income declined to $60,900 or $0.07 per share from 1972's results of $289,400 or $0.33 per share. The major cause of the earnings decline was the after-tax loss of $327,700 incurred through dissolution of Princeton Metal Systems Corporation (PMSC), a 97 percent owned subsidiary.

CASTLE IN THE AIR

Over the bridge and through the rocks and up in the trees we go! Yet for all its tree house feeling, this intriguing contemporary is solidly anchored into its rockstrewn hillside and practically planned for all age living The entrance hall opens on a really fantastic living room, 16 x 25, with handsome raised fireplace, built-in planter and oversized sofas, and decorative divider—a combination stereo cabinet, warming counter and china cupboard—separating it from the two-story, glass-walled dining area Equally marvelous in its own way is the super kitchen-playroom-breakfast room Four good bedrooms, 2½ baths, laundry room plus downstairs study and upstairs sitting room—either of which could double as bedrooms—round out the highly liveable living space.

Practical assets include central air, burglar-fire alarm, central vacuum, dumb waiter up from underhouse carport, excellent condition, fenced child-dog area, NO grounds maintenance! Light abounds throughout from many interestingly designed windows, skylights and window walls, though the house is hidden away in a beautiful wooded Princeton Township setting To top it off, a sunny roof deck is a natural for a "penthouse" garden!

Offered with almost 5 acres for $199,500
7 acres for $239,500

RETURN TO THE CHARACTER AND SPACE OF YESTERYEAR. - This large rambling colonial farmhouse in Princeton Township will give your family a sense of roots and a tie to the past. Perhaps more important than its five working fireplaces, random width wide board floors and hand hewn beamed ceilings is the feeling of freedom imparted by its many large rooms. Where else could you find seven rooms downstairs, two staircases, and six large bathrooms, and four baths upstairs? The basic work has been done. The slate roof and plumbing and heating is sound. Now is the time to paint and decorate to suit your own taste and way of life. With two acres and a small barn you can have the option of a riding ring and gardens. There is splendid walking in the nearby Herrontown Woods and Autumn Hill Reservation.

REAL ESTATE

18th CENTURY

With additions and changes over a 200-year period. We offer the "impossible-to-find" kind of country property only minutes from town in Montgomery Township overlooking the Bedens Brook Valley on 35+ acres of "Southern slope" land with second floor, and room for three or more cars; older cattle or horse building; workshop building with garage or tractor space. The house (its center section dating back to the mid-1700's) is a delightful blend of old and new, with wide pine floors, a tiger maple star rail, big stone fireplaces (two), large dry basement, modern heating, plumbing, and wiring. The thirty-foot-long living room is unexpectedly spacious for family or entertaining - a cozy den has a huge south-facing window framing a delicious view of the valley. Large dining room, sunny kitchen, four corner bedrooms, and a large attic.

A fine investment. . . . . price & further details on request.

Several other new listings are now being offered to our prospective buyers who have left their names and requirements with us.

Distinctive Colonial, in Elm Ridge Park, combines the beauty of setting and appointments with excellent functional utility. Eight rooms, 2½ baths, 2 fireplaces, central air conditioning, full basement, 2-car garage, and more, on a 1½ acre lot with a magnificent vista of Honey Lake $115,000

PRINCETON BOROUGH

Two-story, 2-apartment house in the easterly end is a short walk from the University campus. Five rooms, bath and fireplace on the first floor; 4 rooms and bath on second.

$65,000

EAST WINDSOR TOWNSHIP

Split-level 3-bedroom, 2½ bath townhouse offers, in addition to the many extras included in a Twin Rivers home, a lovely lake view.

$46,500

This pleasant Colonial features charm of the 1920's and modern conveniences of the 1970's. Center hall, living room (with fireplace), dining room, kitchen, bath, laundry room, and screened porch on the first floor; 4 bedrooms and a bath on the second. Set on a treed 3/4-acre lot in a village of West Windsor Township.

$59,500

MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP

A quiet cul-de-sac location lends a country atmosphere and nearby neighbors provide a sense of community for this Colonial split-level, less than a year old. Eight rooms, 2½ baths, fireplace, partial basement, 2-car garage, and aluminum siding.

$65,000

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

Just beyond the westerly Borough line, on a beautifully land-scaped 2/3-acre lot, is a unique 2-level Contemporary with 8 rooms (including a 16 x 24' living room), 2½ baths, 2-car carport, and with such features as a raised-hearth fireplace, central air conditioning, Philippine Luan mahogany cabinetry, and a 10 x 30' balcony screened porch overlooking a Sylvan pool.

$108,000

HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP

The house is a Cape Cod with 4 bedrooms and 1½ baths, and it is on a wooded 3/4-acre lot. A nice home, a pretty lot, a convenient location, and a modest price.

$42,000

Attractive and warmly spacious, this 10-year old ranch-house has 10 rooms, 3 full baths and 2 powder rooms, 2 fireplaces, a screened porch, and 3-car garage. The lot is almost 4 acres in size and backs up to Stony Brook; on a quiet street in Princeton Township's westerly end.

$125,000

WEST WINDSOR TOWNSHIP

Nice, conveniently locatd ranch-house, on a 100x210' lot, has entrance hall, large living-dining room with fireplace, kitchen, family room, 3 bedrooms, one bath, and attached 1-car garage.

$54,000

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

Particularly well-suited for a large family, here is a property that offers plenty of room both inside and out. The house is of Colonial split-level design and has 9 rooms (5 bedrooms), 2½ baths, fireplace, central air conditioning, basement, and 2-car garage. The lot, almost an acre in size, is in Shady Brook.

LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP

A Cold Soil Road location, within walking distance of Lawrenceville, provides a delightful setting for this custom Colonial with 4 bedrooms, 1½ baths, fireplace, central air conditioning, and basement. Unusually nice lot is small enough to be easy to maintain but large enough to provide seclusion.

$64,500

HOUGHTON REAL ESTATE

UNDER $70,000—WEST WINDSOR

Everyone wants a pretty house with trees—at last we have one! Expanded Dutch Colonial with four bedrooms (two up, two down) and three and a half baths. 30' living/dining room with two way fireplace to be enjoyed also from the family room. Large kitchen, laundry, attached 2 car garage and full basement. We know this is too good to be true—SO do call before it is sold!

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

A brand new house with a feeling of Williamsburg and built by one of Princeton's finest builders (Houghton). It has a most interesting and flexible plan. It is really a very large ranch—but on the second floor is a huge 4th bedroom and bath—perhaps to be used as the master bedroom or for the mostly absent college student as a hideaway. It really is worth a tour.

The muscles that cover the skeleton are known as the skeletal muscles. What you may think of as the flesh on your body is actually these five hundred or so skeletal muscles, together with some fat. Your body's power to hold itself upright and to move about rests in these skeletal muscles. These muscles also help squeeze the blood in the veins back to the heart for more oxygen. So you can see just how important good muscle tone really is.

Choir College Planning $10 Million Expansion

A $10 million dollar building program, which includes a McCarter-size concert hall for the Princeton community, was unveiled this week by Westminster Choir College.

On the 26-acre campus, bordered by Walnut and Linden Lanes and bisected by the Borough-Township line, the choir college plans to construct a Student Center, a recital hall, a building for music classrooms and the music center-concert hall. Construction of the first building, the Student Center, is expected to start this spring and be completed by the fall of 1975. J. Robert Hillier is the architect.

The concert hall will be the most important part of the program, so far as the Princeton community is concerned, pointed out Ray Robinson, president of Westminster.

"If the money for that came first; say, if somebody gave us $5 million today, we'd have that concert hall within three years," he said.

Dr. Robinson envisions a hall large enough to accommodate a full orchestra and the 250-voice Westminster Choir, and be suitable for opera, as well. It could be as large as 1,500 seats, he said. McCarter Theatre seats 1,077.

Facilities Here Inadequate. "You can't put a full orchestra and our choir anywhere in Princeton," he continued. "Our choir now has to go to Avery Fisher Hall in New York, the Academy of Music in Philadelphia or the Kennedy Center in Washington. We can't do in Princeton what we do on a regular basis elsewhere."

Within this music center-concert hall, Westminster and Dr. Robinson would like to build a ballet studio and quarters for the College's burgeoning music preparatory program for children. This project, started three years ago with 30 children, now has 210 and is expected to grow to 300.

Philosophy. The building master plan has been built from the foundations of the college's own philosophy. Dr. Robinson told a press conference. Rather than expand and expand, trustees have decided to grown in depth, limiting the undergraduate body to 500 students and concentrating on quality.

Westminster now has slightly over 400 undergraduates. It is not a conservatory of mustic in the traditional sense, but a training ground for leaders. Its four-year program trains students to direct church choirs. The college also has the largest organ department in the United States, according to Dr. Robinson. In the president's words, "Westminster graduates are prepared for a life of service to mankind through music."

The Student Center will be the first building because students are now eating in the basement of the chapel, in a dining commons built to accommodate 150. The room now serves over 350 at noon meals.

The Center will also house a bookstore and student services. The college has been given permission by the state to construct this Center as an exception to the current sewer moratorium imposed on Princeton, because it is a replacement facility rather than a new one, Mr. Hillier said.

The present dining commons will be converted into additional teaching studio and faculty office.

Playhouse to Be Replaced. Second in line for construction is a small recital hall which will eventually take the place of the present Playhouse---a structure always planned as a "temporary" facility. The hall will be designed chiefly for organ recitals, and will probably be built with a seating capacity of 250.

The original Westminster Choir College buildings, designed by Sherley Morgan, form an intimate, but so far uncompleted, courtyard. The Student Center building, backing up to Walnut Lane, and the small recital hall, facing it on the other side of the present chapel, will complete this courtyard and re-inforce the intimate, "family" feeling of the campus, Mr. Hillier explained.

WESTMINSTER'S FUTURE: Shaded buildings are proposed new ones for the Westminster Choir College campus. Hamilton Avenue is at the bottom of the sketch, Walnut Lane on the left. Houses on Linden Lane back up to the row of trees screening the parking lot on the right. The president's house is in the extreme lower right corner. The existing main building, Williamson Hall, is the structure whose tower shows as a shadow. The new Student Center and a new new recital hall will complete the existing quadrangle whose base is Williamson Hall. Far right, center is the proposed concert hall and its parking area. The double-L building at the center left, is the new classroom building. Possible faculty-student housing is at the top, on Franklin Avenue.

An "Applied Music Center"---classroom building---will house faculty offices, private teaching rooms and classrooms. It will be built immediately to the north of the Student Center, and complemented by the large concert hall across campus from it, will fill a large empty area which students and architect alike refer to as a "turnpike." A pedestrian mall will replace the "turnpike" and link concert hall and Student Center-Music Center. More academic space will be provided by building a kind of terrace around two sides. of the present library.

A small recreation center with swimming pool is also in the plans. Physical education facilities for a college like Westminster are not the conventional ones usually built for a college. As Mr. Hiller pointed out, "Pianists and organists do NOT play basketball!"

Concert-goers headed for the Concert Hall will park in an extensive parking lot behind the hall, screened from Linden Lane homes and from Hamilton Avenue as well.

As a final phase, not even firmly set in the plan, Westminster may construct housing for faculty and married students on land fronting Franklin Avenue.

As a non-profit educational institution, Westminster does not have to go before the Princeton Regional Planning board for site-plan review, Mr. Hillier said. However, the college and its architect have conferred with the Planning Board as plans have progressed, particularly in regard to parking facilities.

Many Opinions Sought. Discussions with students, faculty and administration have been part of the architects' procedure for the past four years, Mr. Hillier said. The Hillier associate working with Westminster is Joe Spaeth.

"Westminster students have a high degree of dedicated professionalism," Mr. Hillier observed, "even with 27 practice organs, students must sign up for organ time—I've hired Westminster baby-sitters who are in a hurry to get back for a late-night session---and when you ask students what they want, they don't talk much about ping-pong tables (although they need more of those), they say 'more practice-rooms!',"

Mr. Hillier said his designs will keep "the human scale of the original quadrangle buildings. We will strive to repeat the quality and scale of this space, though not necessarily the neo-Georgian architecture."

Funding for the Student Center has been Dr. Robinson's project of 18 months, the president revealed. Major foundation support for construction may also be forthcoming, he said.

YOUR MOLARS ARE SHOWING: Valentine the Dentist (Curt Dawson) peers into a sizeable cavity as Dorothy (Ann McDonough) opens a little wider, please. That's Phil (E.E. Norris), grining at the far left. All are in Bernard Shaw's "You Never Can Tell," due next week at McCarter.

News Of The THEATRES

"YOU NEVER CAN TELL"

Shaw Coming Up. Bright and brittle Shaw, "You Never Can Tell," is coming along at McCarter, and opening night has been scheduled for Thursday, March 28, at 7:30 p.m.

Stephen Porter, artistic director for the New Phoenix Theatre, is directing this McCarter production. In his cast, he has five actors whom audiences will recall from other appearances on the McCarter stage, and five newcomers.

The familiar faces are those of I.M. Hobson (remember "The Entertainer"?) as the waiter whose philosophy of life provides Shaw with the title for his play; Clarence Felder, who was Sir Toby Belch in "Twelfth Night" and will be Shaw's Bohun, a legal counsellor; Ann McDonough and E.E. Norris, both from "Twelfth Night," who will play Dorothy and Philip Clandon, and Gordon Gray, who has appeared in both "Twelfth Night" and "The Daughter in Law." He will portray the second waiter.

After opening night, "You Never Can Tell" will play Friday and Saturday, March 29 and 30, at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday, March 31, at 3 p.m.; Wednesday and Thursday, April 3 and 4, at 7:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, April 5 and 6 at 8:30 p.m. and finally, Sunday, April 7, at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Tickets are on sale at McCarter's box-office.

AUDITIONS SET

Open auditions for the McCarter Theatre Company's 1974-75 Drama Series will be held on April 10, 11 & 12 at the theatre.

Actors and actresses interested in auditioning for the McCarter Theatre Company must submit a photograph and resume to Leon Leake, Productions Director, McCarter Theatre, Box 526, Princeton, N.J. 08540, prior to making an appointment for auditions.

JAZZ

From Preservation Hall. A part of America's musical history will be re-lived in Princeton when the venerable musicians of New Orleans' Preservation Hall Jazz Band return to Alexander Hall for their third Princeton concert on Friday, April 5, at 8.

Each of the Preservation Hall Jazz Band has memories of days when jazz, or "jass" as they spelled it at the turn of the century, was taking form and shape and becoming a separate kind of music. These

Albee Bill at Intime Slowly Paced But Has Steady Diet of Laughter

"The American Dream" and "The Sandbox," short plays by Edward Albee, are the current presentation of Theatre Intime at Murray Theatre. They will be repeated this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 21-23.

In the first play, Albee riddles the American dream with his satire, showing it to be loveless, shallow, devoid of feeling. He ridicules grown-ups in the characters of Mommy and Daddy, whose conversation and behavior are infantile to a degree. Spineless Daddy and self-centered Mommy no more understand the needs of older people (in the person of Grandma) than of children (witness their gruesome unsuccess with an adopted child twenty years earlier).

Lest this sound like heavy fare, it should be said that Albee's dialogue invites laughter at almost every step. The appeal of the absurd is strong.

The cast of five directed by Jim Shankman in "The American Dream" projects the bite and humor of Albee's play only intermittently. In spite of considerable laughter from a predominantly young audience on Friday night, the pace of the performance was slow. Where one laugh might have triggered the next in continuous rhythm, too many flat spaces between the good lines gave one time to reflect that it was play-acting we were seeing on the stage. Even in a situation as joyously absurd as this one, Daddy, Mommy and Grandma should seem to be real people.

Of the three, Jamie Horton's Daddy is most consistently believable. (I should like to see this accomplished actor play a young part for a change.) Winnie Holzman (Mommy) has many fine moments, but some of her good lines seem to spring from the blue rather than from her character.

Susan Wolf has the central character of Grandma. She moves like a grandma, she sounds (most of the time) like a grandma, and she looks like a woman of thirty-five. (In "The Sandbox," with her gray hair no longer concealed beneath a kerchief, she looks more like a grandma.)

Kim Myers is a suavely convincing Mrs. Barker. Even after acceding to her hostess's invitation to take her dress off and be comfortable, she remains coolly elegant. Howard Leathers, as the Young Man, makes big yardage with his smile and his physique.

Verdict on "The American Dream": lots of fun; misses excellence by being slow.

It is a happy idea to follow "Dream" with "The Sandbox." The latter is so short that, when played by itself, the characters of Mommy, Daddy and Grandma are barely sketched in. But when we know them and their interrelation, the desertion of Grandma on the beach has more meaning.

The relation between Grandma and the Young Man is now more right and natural as we have already seen him through Grandma's eyes as the van-man come to carry her away. Altogether this is the most satisfactory "Sandbox" that I have seen.

The set and light design for both plays by Patrick Canavan is stylistically simple. It suggests both reality and unreality, and it is unobtrusive.

Verdict on the twin bill: an evening for those who like to think and laugh at the same time; recommended.

—Herbert McAneny

OPENING NIGHT FRIDAY

For Players Production. The Princeton Community Players production of "The Loves of Cass McGuire," by Brian Friel, opens at 8:30 this Friday in the Little Theatre of the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road and Route 206. Patrons at the opening performance are invited to a reception immediately after the play.

Heading the cast as 70-year old Cass—one of the most demanding roles in Players' history—will be Harriet Cogan. An actress since she was 6, Mrs. Cogan has appeared at McCarter in the P.J. & B. production of "Fiddler on the Roof," playing Yente the Matchmaker, and also as Frau Schmidt in "Sound of Music." Last April she acted for the Pennington Players in "Don't Drink the Water."

Appearing as Mr. Ingram, an eccentric inmate of a home for old people, is Herbert McAneny, who acted in the Players' first production—"Cock Robin" in 1933—and who directed the last production of their 40th season, "Belle the Typewriter Girl." A fellow inmate, the ex-elocution teacher Trilbe Costello, is played by Sandra Jefferson, who was seen in the Players' "Madwoman of Chaillot" and "The House of Blue Leaves." Cass's brother and sister-in-law, Harry and Alice McGuire, are played by Bob Edelson, a veteran of Universities of Michigan, Connecticut and Florida stages; and by Susan Zimmerman, who has appeared in both Players productions this year—"Everything in the Garden" and "The Killing of Sister George."

Norman Friedman and Anne Bredon, both Community Players veterans of several years standing, are also numbered in the old folks' home. Three newcomers to the Players round out the cast: Irma Bantham of Windsor, Sally Heffernan of Hightstown, and Ed Watkinson of Trenton.

Norman F. Washburne, the director, had wide experience in Ohio before moving to this area. For the Community Players he directed "No Exit" and played the leading role in "The House of Blue Leaves." Assistant director is Sue Ann Nystrom, who has been stage manager and costume chairman for several Players' productions.

"The Loves of Cass McGuire" will continue its run on March 23, 24, 28, 29 and 30.

IN DANCE CONCERT

..Co-op Members. Dancers from The Dance Co-op of Princeton will present a concert with Circle and Squares Dance Theatre, at Livingston College Theatre Friday and Saturday, March 29 and 30, at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, March 31, at 3 p.m.

Three new dances will be performed at the concert. They have been choreographed by two teachers for the Co-op, Abigail Ewert Kaplan and Anna Paskevska.

The first is the Kaplan "Visions of Myrddin ye Enchanter," a series of visions conjured up by Myrddin, a great Welsh magician. The composition will be presented in full costume, utilizing masks and poetry.

In the cast are 30 dancers from the Princeton area including soloists Anne Bierri, a professional dancer from

Ann Paskevska has choreographed two dances for the concert: "Sports and Diversions," to music by Eric Satie—a series of humorous vignettes—and "Ophelia," a dramatic study of Ophelia's madness.

Tickets, at $2 with a $1 student price, may be ordered from The Dance Co-op at 201-359-1816. They will also be on sale at the door.

MUSICAL SCHEDULED

At Mercer College Theatre. "Oh What A Lovely War," the musical entertainment sketching in song and dance the futility and anguish of World War I, will be the next presentation of the Mercer College Theatre, beginning on Wednesday, March 27 for a five-night run.

Ken Alcorn, a veteran of local stages, will lead a Pierot-costumed company of 16 performers as they revive the tunes and attitudes of the 1914 era. The show by Joan Littlewood sardonically presents the songs, recruiting posters and ominous headlines of the war within the jaunty context of an English Music Hall presentation. Every element in the show is authentic - from the projected slides and films of World War I to the sentiment and ribaldry of the times, represented in songs like "Keep the Home Fires Burning," "Tipperary," "Roses of Picardy," "Gassed Last Night" and "I'll Make a Man of You."

Performances will run from Wednesday, March 27, through Sunday, March 31. Curtain time is at 8:15 p.m. in the West Windsor Campus Theatre.

Admission to the general public is $1.50. Telephone reservations will be accepted at 586-4800, ext. 296 or 312.

"THE LIVING OCEAN."

Starring Crabs, Sandpipers. Barnacles, crabs, sandpipers and cormorants are among the stars of a film called "The Living Ocean" to be shown next Monday at 8 p.m. in the Kirby Arts Center, Lawrenceville School. The Trenton Naturalist Club is the sponsor.

The film explores the eastern coastline from Nova Scotia to the northern end of Florida, examining the wealth of plant and animal life at the edge of the sea. Eels born in the Sargaso Sea, hermit crabs growing and shedding their shells, oyster catchers and cormorants that live from the sea, are all part of the life-cycle shown in "The Living Ocean."

PRODUCTION SCHEDULED

At Lawrence High March 29.

The National Theatre Company will present its new production of the Johann Wyss classic, "Swiss Family Robinson," at Lawrence High School Auditorium Sunday, March 29. The performance, scheduled to begin at 2, is presented under the sponsorship of the Lawrence Arts Council, a non-profit group dedicated to fostering an appreciation of the arts in all forms.

The production of "The Swiss Family Robinson" will utilize the talents of several Broadway veterans, including Lee Theodore as director. Theodore is noted as choreographer of such Broadway hits as "The Apple Tree' and "Baker Street." Composer of the musical score for the show is Sheldon Markham, musical director of off-Broadway's "Godspell."

Tickets at $2 each may be obtained in advance by contacting Betty Radcliff at 896-9159 or Gail Boerer at 896-0766. They will also be sold at the door.

industry? Find out at "Citizen Kong," next on stage for Theatre Intime. It will open Thursday, April 11 in Murray Theatre.

"Citizen Kong" will have an original score composed, arranged and performed by two young Princeton musicians, Robert Davidson and Charles Roth. Selections--maybe future hits--are "I Love Your Talent," "Money Makes the World Go 'Round" and "Space on the Stage is the Current Rage."

The musical is set in an abandoned television studio, and the production is structured rather like a montage, with spontaneous switches from one image to another.

With Devonnes. A cast of 30, ranging in age from five years—on up—will star in a revue to be given by The Devonnes as a benefit for the National Organization for Women.

The revue will be presented at 8 p.m. on Saturday, March 30, in the auditorium of John Witherspoon School. Tickets are on sale at The Women's Place, 14½ Witherspoon.

Part of the Revue is dedicated to the '40s and '50s, and the Devonnes have created choreography to such songs as "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy," "In the Mood" and "Lullaby of Broadway." Costumes and scenery to match, of course.

The highlight of the show is the moment when all 30 members of the cast assemble on stage for the dances of that nostalgic era: the Susie-Q, truckin', jitterbug, black bottom and maybe even more.

The Devonnes are a singing trio composed of twin sisters, Johnnie and Michael Hill, and Louise Stephenson Shaw. One of the singers in the Revue will be Billy Proctor, brother of the twins known for his million-seller '65 record, "Easier Said Than Done." His daughter, Adrienne, is the five-year-old mentioned above. She will be making her singing stage debut in the Revue.

Debra Kahn, 12 years old, will also be in the cast. Audiences will remember her from P.J. & B. and Princeton Ballet Society productions. She has also appeared in musicals in the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park.

Miss Kahn is of Japanese descent. Another cast member, Geri Talone, has an Italian background. She has performed in various Italian night-clubs in the Trenton area, and just completed three week-ends at the Artist's Showcase Theatre in "Charlie Brown." She has also been in "South Pacific," "Funny Girl" and "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

The ethnic theme continues with Barbara Dyetl, of Irish-Polish background. She has served as assistant director and stage manager for several Washington Crossing productions, and has also played several Trenton area night-clubs. She was recently seen as Lucy in "Charlie Brown."

The Devonnes previous production was given during the Christmas season at three prisons: Rikers Island, Clinton Reformatory for Women and Caldwell Correctional Institute.

The Paper Chase is an entertaining and often insightful look at the first year of graduate school for a group of law students. The necessity of good grades (the "paper chase"), the pressure of work and the importance of teachers, and the total educational experience are neatly displayed.

There are two themes: the relationship between the aspiring student and the irascible, demanding professor, roles well acted by Timothy Bottoms and John Houseman, and the relationship between the student and his studies.

Right off, Bottoms is told that all that stuff about grades is true. It may only be a number of a letter but it determines salaries and futures. Class preparation is everything, the exam and term paper chase, the determination to know the answer if called on are deadly serious concerns no matter how silly they may seem. It must govern experience; even sex has to take a back seat.

On top of the pressure of study, Bottoms is faced with a master who is crabby, sarcastic—and incontestably brilliant. Through him he feels the pull of the academic lodestone for the first time.

N.J. ORCHESTRA COMING

For Concert at Stuart Day. The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Henry Lewis, will conclude its 1973-74 season with an informal concert on Sunday, March 24, at 3 at Stuart Country Day School. The program will feature piano soloist Gyorgy Sandor, and will include Mozart's "Prague" Symphony; Bartok's "Piano Concerto No. 3", and Mussorgsky's "Pictures from an Exhibition."

"Pictures from an Exhibition" was written originally as a piano solo in 1874, but was not orchestrated until almost 50 years later. Mussorgsky wrote the piece after attending a memorial exhibition of the architectural designs and paintings of Victor Hartmann, a friend who had died suddenly in 1873.

The work, which includes a Promenade and ten descriptive pieces, was not published until 1886. It attracted little attnction until Maurice Ravel was commissioned by Serge Koussevitzky of the Boston Symphony to orchestrate it. The orchestration was completed in 1922.

The last piece, "The Great Gate of Kiev," was Hartmann's entry in a gateway design competition in the Russian city. The music portrays a powerful and exhilarating procession which moves through the gate, and includes the final Promenade theme.

Tickets for the concert are available from the Princeton University Store, Hinkson's, and at the door. Chairs are $5, while bleacher seats and floor space are $3. Because of the lack of parking facilities at Stuart, the audience is urged to park at Princeton Day School and ride the Symphony's shuttle bus to the concert.

JOINT CONCERT SET

For March 24 at All-Saints. The Collegium Musicum of Princeton will be joined by members of the Princeton Community Orchestra in a concert on Sunday evening, March 24–the third program to be offered hy the ensemble in the current Trinity-All Saints' series. The concert, which starts at 8 p.m. in All Saints' Church on Van Dyke Road, will include three concert'goers' favorites: the haunting Fingal's Cave Overture by Mendelssohn, Gabriel Faure's Pavane, and Mozart's Clarinet Concerto in A Major.

The guest conductor for the evening will be A. Kunrad Kuam, Chairman of the Department of Music at Douglass College of Rutgers University. George M. Jones, also of the music faculty at Douglass, will be soloist in the Mozart concerto. The fourth item on the program is "Concert Piece," written by Burrill Phillips for bassoon and strings, to be performed by the Collegium with bassoonist Edward R. Helms, a member of the Trenton State College music faculty.

The concert is open to the public, admission free. A collection will be taken to defray expenses.

RECITAL SCHEDULED

On Harpsichord. Harpsichordist Frances Cole will present a recital at Westminster Choir College on Sunday, March 31, at 4 in Bristol Chapel. It is open to the public without charge; tickets are required and may be picked up at the reception desk in Williamson Hall on the Westminster campus.

Miss Cole is director of Westminster's summer Harpsichord Festival and a visiting assistant professor of harpsichord. She has made numerous appearances on nation-wide television including the "Today Show," and is an assistant professor of music at Queens College in New York.

Theatres

Perhaps not everyone will want to see a film about a student-teacher relationship no matter how well it is made, but "The Paper Chase" has more of the actual feel and sweat of academic life than just about any other film in recent memory.

PLAYHOUSE
(Double Feature)

Paper Moon. An enjoyable tale of a slick con man and his nine-year-old tagalong who turns out to be slicker than he is. Fine performances by Ryan O'Neal as the con man and his real-life daughter, Tatum, who has been nominated for an Academy Award for her role as the tagalong, set in the grim '30s and directed by Peter Bogdanovich.

O'Neal is a thirtyish con man with snappy shoes, dashing curly hair and topped off by a moustache that he thinks makes him look raffish. You wouldn't buy a used anything from him. But Tatum takes to him at once and sticks with him through thick and thin. And so wordly wise despite her nine years.

When, for example, he uses her orphaned status to swindle a banker out of $200, she bides her time. Later in a crowded restaurant she looks him in the eye and says in a loud voice: "Give me my $200."

This is not a redemption-through-fatherhood film but rather a tough, somewhat bitter study of scrape-along life in the Depression. Although the scenes are often funny, a lack of joy and kindliness permeates. Indeed, at times the film is almost schizophrenic as it alternates between humor and grimness. No matter. Tatum is one of the best things to happen to Hollywood since Haley Mills.

A Touch of Class is the kind of quiet little film, that must make its own way without a lot of advance buildup and ballyhoo, and consequently may be overlooked.

No best-selling book to pave the way, nor big name stars or X-rating, this lively romantic comedy has much to commend it. Glenda Jackson and George Segal are cast as a couple of wayward souls involved in trying to set up an affair.

Several accidental meetings finally lead to a carefully planned rendezvous in an apartment, where Segal suggests a more permanent affair. Miss Jackson agrees and that's where the real complications begin.

Both Segal and Miss Jackson give fine performances. (She has been nominated as "Best Actress" for her role.) Her quiet stares and barbs-from-repose find a fine complement in the f grin slightly nutty good hum of Segal. He does overplay just a bit, but he makes his somewhat klunky insurance executive one of the world's more attractive fools. And a definite plus for the film is some beautiful, witty dialogue.

Elizabeth Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Jacobs of 164 Dodds Lane, will be one of seven featured performers in the University of the Pacific Drama Department production of "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little," by Paul Zindel. Miss Jacobs is a sophomore majoring in drama at the university, located in Stockton, Calif.

Dr. George J. Langmyhr of Rocky Hill has been appointed assistant director of the Division of Family Study at the University of Pennsylvania's Department of Psychiatry. Formerly Medical Director of Planned Parenthood-World Population in New York from 1967 to 1972, Dr. Langmyhr, his wife, Maureen, and three daughters live at 16 Merritt Lane.

Melissa Ann Murray, 14-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard B. Murray, Jr., 976 Alexander Road, West Windsor, is a finalist in the 1974 Miss New Jersey Teen-Ager Pageant, to be held June 1 at the Holiday Inn, North Brunswick. The winner will compete in the national pageant August 31 in Atlanta.

Contestants are judged on beauty of face and figure, poise, personality and scholastic achievement-leadership. Melissa's hobbies are painting, guitar-playing, swimming and needlework. Among her sponsors are the West Windsor State Bank, Lucar Hardware and Craig & Son.

Cadet Winfield S. Arnott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Arnott of 88 Magnolia Street, has been named to the Superintendent's List at the U.S. Air Force Academy. A 1968 graduate of Princeton High School and a member of the Class of 1975 at the Academy, Cadet Arnott was selected for his achievements in academic and military performance.

Robert Rosner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rosner of 15 Linwood Circle, a student at the Lawrenceville School, has enrolled for a one-week, pre-season baseball session at the Ted Williams Baseball Camp, Lakeville, Mass. This will be his second session at the camp.

Second Lieutenant Christopher A. Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Stokes of 157 Hun Road, has been awarded his silver wings at Columbus Air Force Base, Mississippi, after graduating from pilot training. He is being assigned to Griffiss Air Force Base, New York.

Dr. Richard Jeffrey, 55 Patton Avenue, one of the foremost scholars in the field of philosophy of science, will join the faculty of Princeton University July 1. Dr. Jeffrey is currently chairman of the Philosophy Department at the University of Pennsylvania, where he has been a faculty member for the past seven years.

Dr. Jeffrey taught at Princeton a decade ago as a visiting member of the faculty while associated in 1963-64 with the Institute for Advanced Study. He graduated from the University of Chicago and received his doctoral degree from Princeton in 1957, where he held the Jacobus Fellowship (awarded to Princeton's top-ranking graduate student) in 1956-57. The following year, as a Fulbright Scholar, he attended Oxford University. He began his teaching career in 1958 at MIT as an Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering.

The first J. Robert Oppenheimer Research Fellowship at the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory has been awarded to Dr. David K. Campbell, 78 Einstein Drive. He will work in the Laboratory's Theoretical Division.

Dr. Campbell, who received his Ph.D. in theoretical physics from Cambridge University, England, is a member of the Institute for Advanced Study. He received his undergraduate degree in physics and chemistry from Harvard in 1966.

LASL Director Dr. Harold M. Agnew said "The primary objective of the J. Robert Oppenheimer Research Fellowships is to increase and deepen contacts between the Laboratory and that select number of recent recipients of doctoral degrees who show clear and definite promise of becoming outstanding leaders in scientific research. It is expected that the period of tenure of the appointment will be one of mutual stimulation for both the Laboratory and the appointee."

Dr. Richard M. Ludwig, of 43 Hartley Avenue, Professor of English and a member of the Princeton University faculty since 1950, will become Assistant University Librarian for Rare Books and Special Collections effective July 1. An authority on American literature, Dr. Ludwig will continue to teach in the English Department on a reduced basis.

John M. Kolesar, Director of the Center for Analysis of Public Issues, 92 Nassau Street, has been elected a public trustee of Blue Cross of New Jersey. A former reporter for the Associated Press and the Trenton Times, Mr. Kolesar has also served as Deputy Commissioner of Community Affairs. He lives in Crosswicks, Burlington County.

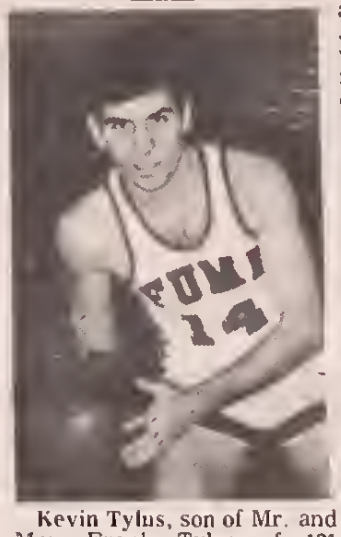
G. Kenneth Chambers has been promoted to director of sales at Permacel, a division of Johnson & Johnson located in North Brunswick. A graduate of Brown University, Mr. Chambers joined Permacel in 1959 as a sales trainee. Mr. and Mr. Chambers and their three children live at 390 Gallup Road.

Frank Lewin, of 113 Magnolia Lane, a composer of music for television, concert hall, theater and film, lectured this week at the Summit Art Center on the film, "The White House Paintings." Mr. Lewin composed the music for this film, which was first produced at the request of Mrs. John F. Kennedy and later revised on the initiative of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Some of Mr. Lewin's music will be incorporated in an outdoor drama entitled "In Freedom We'll Live," which opens next year in Mercer County. The New Jersey Historical Drama Association, of which Mr. Lewin is Artistic and Technical Director, will present the drama as one of the state's projects for the Bicentennial celebration.

Two members of the Garden Club of Princeton won first prize blue ribbons in horticulture at the Eighth Annual New Jersey Garden Club Flower Show in Morristown. They are Mrs. Donald Vollrath of Springdale Road, for cacti and succulents; and Mrs. A.V.S. Olcott Jr., of Woodsville Road, Hopewell, for hanging containers and foliage plants.

Edward B. Sloan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burrows Sloan Jr. of 17 Harriet Drive, has been named recipient of the T.E. Shirley Prize, given each year to the Texas Christian University student "whose writing shows professional promise." Edward is a sophomore majoring in English.



Kevin Tylus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tylus of 121 Washington Road, averaged 12 points a game this season for the Fork Union, Virginia, Military Academy basketball team. A senior who played at guard, Kevin also has a 94 academic average and has been on the Honor Roll and the Dean's List each grading period.

In a lecture-recital this week at a piano session of the Music Teachers National Association convention in Los Angeles, David Kraehenbuehl, composer and musical consultant for National Keyboard Arts Associates, presented a program of "Concertos for the Young."National Keyboard Arts of University Park, Princeton is a national organization specializing in creating, testing and publishing music education materials. Elmer Heerema, former Princeton resident and west coast concert pianist, and Richard Chronister, educational director of NKAA, joined Mr. Kraehenbuehl in the world premier of two new concertos for young performers.

Lewis S. Kraft, of 293 Ridgeview Road, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Central New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Anthony J. Maruca of Province Line Road has been re-elected to the Board. The Chapter also announced that F.C. Wiser Jr., of 15 Hibben Road, President of the International Federation of Multiple Sclerosis Societies, was appointed Honorary Chairman of the Chapter Advisory Committee, and that Archibald S. Alexander Jr., of 61 Westcott Road, former President of the Chapter Board of Directors, was elected Chairman of the Advisory Committee.

The Commissioners of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey have awarded a Distinguished Service Medal to William P. Starr, Jr., of 149 Meadowbrook Drive, for his work in improving engineering services at the Port Authority. Employed at the Authority since 1949, Mr. Starr led in the development of computer programming as a control tool for use in engineering and construction.

Four Princeton residents have attended the annual father-daughter weekend at Skidmore college in Sarasota Springs, N.Y.

They are Rowan Boone, 31 Greathouse Drive, whose daughter, Louise, is a member of the junior class; John F. Brinster, 271 Mercer Road, whose daughter, Margaret, is a member of the senior class; John Reid, 26 Westcott Road, whose daughter, Anne, is a member of the sophomore class; and William H. Tegarden, 25 Edwards Place, whose daughter, Pamela, is a member of the freshman class.

Four students from the Princeton area will be honored April 17 at the traditional Founder's Day program on the Bloomington campus of Indiana University for having been named to the Dean's List for the first semester of the school year. They are Lindsay Blattner, 276 Shady Brook Lane; Joan T. Gettelfinger, 160 Bertrand Drive; Frances J. Walstad, 286 Shady Brook Lane; and Michael S. Godnick, 134 Harris Road, Princeton Junction.

The Trenton Jaycees have given the "Boss of the Year" award to John R. Gallaudet, 207 Edgerstoune Road...-presented annually in recognition of continuing support of the Jaycee tradition and ideals. Mr. Gallaudet is vice-president of the Mortgage and Real Estate Department of the National State Bank of Elizabeth.

Three area educators serving on the faculty of Trenton State College have received promotions. Dr. Dorothy Rubin, of 66 Cuyler Road, has been appointed to full professor in the Education Department. Dr. Lee Jarrod of Hopewell has been named an associate professor in the English Department. Elinor Chafey, also of Hopewell, has been promoted to assistant professor in the Education Department.

Dr. Leonard Blank, president of the Princeton Associates for Human Resources, 575 Ewing Street, will serve on the staff of the sixth annual interaction workshop at Trenton State College. The workshop, scheduled for June 23-29 at the Hillwood Lakes campus, will focus un group procedures and interactions, development of sensitivity to interpersonal styles of behavior, and enhancement of personal growth.

Waste of Money Deplored
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like to put on public record my complete agreement and support for the recent letter of Dr. Helm and published statement of Dr. Powsner criticizing the acquiry of an IBM 1130 computer by Princeton Regional Schools. After all the time and effort spent by the Citizens Advisory Committee, the precipitate ignorant action taken by the School Administration to get an educationally useless piece of redundant hardware, preempting funds much needed for educationally viable activities, is disheartening to say the least.

The arguments given by the Administration to get School Board concurrence, as reported in the press, are rather questionable. Since it seems the Board were not too enthusiastic about the 1130, I hope that they will review the situation further, and consider grounds for cancelling the lease.

The waste of money could be quite low if firm action is taken soon. The waste could be quite considerable, however, if the School Administration is able to continue spending money on computers in its present vein.

Questions about the Library.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Congratulations on the very find article about the 1974 budget of the Princeton Public Library published in your March 14 edition. You deserve the thanks of the Princeton Community for turning the spot-light on this problem at a time when the Library is under great pressure to expand its services.

We have three questions to ask the elected officials of our two municipalities and their appointees, the Board of Trustees of the Library: 1) Why did Mr. Staples have to stand alone at the budget hearing March 11? Why didn't some member of the Board of Trustees come to his aid? 2) Why does the Board of Trustees have a salary schedule if it doesn't intend to fight for it if necessary? 3) Isn't it the legal duty of the Board of Trustees to "fix the compensation" of library employees? (See Title 40: Chapter 54-12 of New Jersey Library Laws).

Borough Not at Fault.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

A letter to the Editor in your issue of March 13, signed by Mrs. Ida Delaney of Hawthorne Avenue, would lead your readers to believe a speeding Borough truck killed a dog on Mercer Street at 6 p.m. on March 4.

Please be advised that there was no Borough equipment involved in the accident. All Borough trucks were garaged by 4:30 on that date and did not leave the garage until 8 a.m. the next day.

It would be appreciated if you could correct this implication.

Rail Service Vital to State.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter the Chamber of Commerce has sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission:

The Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce would like to make public its position of support for the continuation of all existing commuter and freight rail service in the State of New Jersey.

We have been concerned about various reports in newspapers and by speculation on the part of state and federal officials about the fate of several local rail lines. The P.J. & B. link between Princeton and the Main Line has been, for a great many years, a heavily-used public transportation system as our area commuter population has grown. We feel strongly that the future demand for this service will continue to grow rapidly, and that any disruption wil have a serious impact in the form of automobile traffic and parking congestion.

Several freight lines have also been discussed as possible targets for abandonment. We would urge reconsideration of the value—both now and in the future—of such lines as those from Kingston to Monmouth Junction; from Jamesburg to Tennent; and from Trenton to Milford. The Kingston line, in particular, seems to us to be the only realistic route for transporting the huge quantities of quarry stone that are shipped all over this area.

In an era when public transportation is on the increase, we feel the abandonment of any existing railroad service would be a great mistake and would lead to considerable hardship on the part of commuters and businesses alike.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

New Jersey has an enviable record in the field of environmental legislation, particularly during the last administration under the leadership of Commissioner Sullivan of the Department of Environmental Protection. Many of these gains are now in grave jeopardy because of thoughtless reactions to the energy crisis.

In order not to be repetitious, may I simply refer your readers to the "Down to Earth Notes" on the following page of this issue of TOWN TOPICS.

Benefit Successful.

To the Editor of TownTopics:

On March 6, 8, 9, Princeton High School students gave the community the gift of their considerable talent and enthusiasm through benefit performances of the musical, "Anything Goes." More than $2600 was raised to be donated to the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation for Princeton High School Student-to-Student Grants for the Class of '74.

Student, faculty, parent and community cooperation combined to make this event a success. The Trustees of the Foundation, on behalf of the soon to be selected recipients of these grants, thank you all.

In a venture involving more than 140 Princeton High School students, numerous faculty and staff, 60 parent volunteer ad and refreshment salespeople, and 169 playbill advertisers, it is impossible to thank each individually. I would be remiss, however, not to express the Foundation's gratitude to the student cast, musicians, production staff, and Super Council for Drama 74; to Drama Director, Mr. Lawrence A. Mansier; to the Production Director, Mr. James Landi; to the Conductor, Mr. Jack Horner; to the Choreographer, Mrs. Carol Wimberg; to the Playbill Committee organized by Mrs. Charles C. Adams; to the Patron Chairman, Mrs. Lee C. Cleveland; to the Refreshment Committee organized by Mrs. J. Stuart Hunter; and, especially, to the local businesses who contributed so generously to this cause.

If you missed the musical, you missed an opportunity to help Princeton's young people and you missed a special treat. I hope you can attend next year's benefit. For this year, however, it's not too late to mail a tax deductible contribution to the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation at Princeton High School.

The Foundation is proud of Princeton High School and its students and is grateful to the community for caring.

Radar Held Inaccurate.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I wish you would, for the Princeton public, publish a supplement to a report in Town Topics of March 7.

You published the fact that I went to court and received a traffic summons for speeding. This is true!

However, the broader significance of this case was that I was recorded by radar for going 35 MPH in a 25 MPH zone; but after hearing the case, the charge was reduced to 31 MPH, because there was serious question and doubt regarding the calibration of the radar.

The Princeton public, I think you'll agree, will be interested in these additional facts.

A Handy Letter
about Richard Nixon
for Your Convenience

Clip along dotted line and send to Sen. Clifford Case, U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510, or Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515, or another Republican officeholder.

Dear Republican Officeholder,

After all the scandals, deception, and misconduct I feel that Richard Nixon should be relieved of his office and legislation passed to prevent such scandals in the future.

This letter is to say that if Richard Nixon is still in office by November, I will vote a straight Democratic ticket from top to bottom.

Down-to-Earth Notes

Backlash plus Backslide Puts Environmentalists Back on the Not-so Merry-go-round.

"LAND USE BILL KNIFED." "WHITE HOUSE MOVES TO EASE CLEAN AIR STANDARDS." "MASS TRANSIT BILL KILLED." "REPEAL OF DDT BAN VOTED BY HOUSE COMMITTEE." "BLOC MOVES TO WEAKEN STRIP MINE RESTRICTIONS." "PREDATOR POISON CONTROL RULING ATTACKED IN SENATE." "ADMINISTRATION SEEKS TO AMEND NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT." "CROSS FLORIDA CANAL PROJECT REVIVED," etc., etc., etc.

Most working conservationists are not, in my experience, apt to push the panic button; but if they were, these are the recent, ever-increasing types of headlines that would make them do it. As it is, most of them sigh or groan, mutter something like "round and round we go," and resolutely get back to work.

Backlash. Apparently the so-called "environmental backlash," which has been fomented by power industry lobbying and advertising blaming conservationists for the so-called "energy crisis," has not taken hold with the public as its promoters had hoped. (Unfortunately the same cannot be said for too many government officials.)

A January Gallup poll was taken for the purpose of ascertaining what or whom Americans blamed for the energy shortage with the following findings: big oil companies -25 percent; federal government mismanagement - 23 percent; no opinion - 17 percent; miscellaneous groups or causes - 17 percent; the American consumer's wasteful habits - 16 percent; environmentalists - 2 percent (they must have polled a few oil company executives!) In addition, from the Audubon Society comes the information that its increase in membership in November and December 1973, during the upsurge of the energy crisis, was not only the greatest two month growth in its history, but 48 percent greater than that of the same two months in 1972.

Backslide. Encouraging as these tidbits may be, they do not mean that environmentalists can for one minute let down their guard. The fifth annual Environmental Quality Index of the National Wildlife Association shows a "fairly grim picture" with environmental quality in most areas still going downhill. In addition, you never know when and whence the next blow will come, to which the above headlines attest.

Yet apparently the guard is down, at least where letter-writing is concerned. According to one N.J. congressman, mail on environmental issues, seemingly taking a back seat to Watergate and energy, has dwindled to almost nothing. There are all too many issues that need action—I'll try to keep you abreast of some of them when the proper "lobbying time" comes—but for here and now (I do mean NOW) there is a real lollapaloozer!

Goodbye Ocean, Hello Oil. A bill introduced by N.J. State Senators Frank Dodd and Eugene Bedell is now in a committee chaired by Senator Joseph McGahn. The bill, S 200, is entitled "Oil Transfer Facilities Corporation Act"; and the basic features of its 24 pages are summed up as follows by the American Littoral Society (emphasis is mine). Would you believe?:

1) The bill sets up an independent authority with the right to issue tax exempt bonds, and the right of eminent domain. (To make everything perfectly clear, I quote Webster: "eminent domain—the power of a government over all the property within its limits, by which it is entitled to appropriate, or to authorize the appropriation of, private property for public use, giving just compensation to the owner.")

2) The authority can build and operate a deepwater oil port and associated pipeline storage.

---

3) No limits or controls are placed on the number, extent or placement of pipelines, and the authority is exempted from the Wetlands Act, the Major Coastal Facilities Review Act, and local zoning ordinances.

4) No limits or controls are placed on induced private development of oil refineries or petrochemical industry.

5) The authority is not required to obtain any permits or approvals from the N.J. Department of Environmental Protection.

If you ever wrote, or even thought about writing, a legislator, please do it now. It is urgent that letters on the bill reach Senator McGahn—with copies if possible to Senators Dodd and Bedell—from here, there and everywhere in the state. Defeating this incredible bill doesn't mean that nothing will every be done about New Jersey and oil. Its demise does mean that the state will not be catapulted by this single-purposed, dangerous bill into unrestricted on and offshore development connected with oil facilities, resulting in irrevocable coastal land devastation.

The Littoral Society sums up the potential effect of the bill as "Goodbye $5 billion N.J. resort industry, hello Perth Amboy." I would like to add, "Goodbye Wetlands, hello Wastelands" and quote from an earlier column:

"It cannot be said too often that wetlands are not wastelands. In the words of the N.J. Wetlands Act of 1970 'this area protects the land from the force of the sea, moderates the weather, provides a home for waterfowl and for two-thirds of all our fish and shellfish; and assists in absorbing sewage discharged by the rivers of the land.'"

I also plan to write Governor Byrne re the bill for several reasons. 1) Since he has expressed some opposition to deepwater oil ports, I think he should be reinforced and strengthened in his stated position. 2) I am deeply concerned about the continuing lack of a Department of Environmental Protection Commissioner and the effect it must be having on the morale and the efficacy of the DEP at this crucial time.

3) Without a committed, able and experienced Commissioner to keep the Governor informed and updated on environmental issues, I'm afraid that, under so many pressures, he may tend to relegate the environment to a secondary position. So I think concerned citizens should take every opportunity to let the Governor know that they are alive and well and hope to be able to go on living in New Jersey!

If you want to move in that direction, write your own State Senator, supporting S 689, a bill prohibiting the construction of oil ports off the coast of New Jersey. In the 14th District (Princeton, Hopewell, Pennington), it's Senator Anne Martindell; in the 8th District (West Windsor, Lawrenceville), it's Senator Barry Parker.)

Every-Little-Bit-Helps Department

We haven't used a "Baggie" in our house for ages. To save energy (plastic manufacture uses a huge amount) and money, we use bread wrappers for everything that smallish plastic bags can do—storing leftovers, vegetables, wrapping open boxes or jars, storing silver, etc.

The kids even take school lunches in them and quite quickly got over being embarrassed by them. (I'd like to think they're proud of this small contribution to the "waste not, want not" syndrome, but that's probably expecting too much.)

Anyway, it took a visiting grandchild to open up (maybe that's not quite the word to use) a new function: bread wrappers are perfect for disposing of disposable diapers—that is, of course, if sheer necessity dictates the use of those polluting disposables!

ART In Princeton

ORIENTAL BRUSH PAINTING: The work of Chinese artist I-Han Chiang, characterized by energetic brushwork and brilliant colors, is on view at Susuki in Kingston through the end of March.

EAST, WEST ART MEET

In Chiang Paintings. Susuki, Ltd., the art gallery at 32 Main Street in Kingston, will present the works of I-han Chiang, a native of Shantung Province, China, March 17-31. He came to the United States in 1970 to study Chinese art history and from 1971 to 1973 did research at Princeton University.

Characterized by energetic brushwork, brilliant colors and a trenchant use of white and black in contrast, Mr. Chiang's painting has also been influenced by Western techniques. Elements of East and West are evident in some of his recent work.

Mr. Chiang has painted more than 20 years. In 1956 he was awarded second prize in the All-Taiwan Art Teachers' Exhibition, and won first prize in the same exhibition in 1961. He has participated in art exhibitions in Taiwan and Japan, and has shown his paintings in the United States in Chicago and at a one-man show at Baylor UNiversity in 1971.

WOMAN'S PLACE SHOW

Acrylics, Landscapes. Watercolors and acrylics by Edith Harper will be on view starting this Saturday at the Woman's Place, 14½ Witherspoon. Hours, on the opening day of this first Spring Art show will be from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Dr. Harper's work shows great variety. Scenes, in a generally impressionistic style, range from the lush landscapes of the South Seas to the intensity of a winter sunset in New Jersey to the muted tones of the Israeli desert.

A speech therapist, Dr. Harper directs the Sussex County Easter Seals Treatment Center for Speech and Communication Disorders, and works with children at the Institute for Experiential Learning and Development in Lawrenceville. Many of the paintings to be displayed at The Woman's Place will be for sale.

Following the Harper show, The Woman's Place will display the works of Sebet Silverman. That show will open April 27.

ART SEMINAR PLANNED

For Teachers. Teachers in the Princeton area are invited to participate in a museum seminar sponsored by the art museum of Princeton University. It will be held next Wednesday, March 27, from 2 to 4 at the museum.

The seminar will consist of sample tours of museum galleries. The tours have been planned for various grade levels—elementary, middle school and senior high—so that a teacher can visualize the ways in which art might be presented to students of different ages. A slide program, developed by museum guides, will be shown continuously throughout the seminar.

Invitations have been mailed to teachers of students from the third grade level on up. Teachers who have not received an invitation and would like to participate should call Mrs. Marlys Peters, 452-3762.

WEAVING, NEEDLEPOINT

On View at Present Day. Colorful and exciting form is evident in the weaving and needlepoint of the original wall hangings at the Present Day Club, 72 Stockton Street.

The hangings are the work of five area weavers and artists; Judith Gross, Gladys Hoisington, Lore Lindenfeld, Betty Parks and Helen Rose. All pieces but one are for sale and the exhibit may be seen through March 29, Monday-Friday from 9-12 or by calling 924-1014 for an appointment.

FUNDS AVAILABLE

For Art Projects. The New Jersey State Council on the Arts has announced that the deadline for matching grant applications is April 1. These applications are available by writing or calling the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, 27 West State Street, Trenton, New Jersey 08625; telephone (609) 292-6130.

Founded in 1966, the Council gives financial support to activities and projects in the arts throughout the State. Any arts organization or community engaged in art activities in New Jersey is eligible.

The Arts Council helps expand existing programs and develop innovative programs which stimulate and support public participation in the arts. During the past year, the Council awarded nearly $250,000 to individuals and organizations in New Jersey who were involved in a wide range of art-related projects stressing imaginative scope and vision.

Tiger Lacrosse Team Looks to Brighter Season; Three Princeton Residents on Promising Squad

A Princeton lacrosse team considered by its coach as having Princeton's first outside shot at an Ivy title since 1967 will begin its season Saturday at Fairleigh Dickinson. The Tigers' home opener, next Saturday, March 30, will be played against Johns Hopkins, almost invariably one of the nation's top teams.

Three Princeton area residents are members of the squad, two of them brothers. Jon Pettit, a senior attackman, and Don Pettit, a promising sophomore goalie, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Pettit, Ridgeview Road. Both are alumni of Trinity-Pawling School. Steve Stone, Princeton Arms, Cranbury, is a mid-fielder, a sophomore and a Princeton High School alumnus.

Coach Art Robinson does not forecast either the Ivy championship or a berth in the NCAA playoffs for his team, but does feel that the Orange and Black can be rated a dark horse for the Ivy crown. He lists Brown, the defending champion; Cornell, the runner-up, and Penn as the teams to beat. The Tigers last year were tied for fourth with Harvard, each team at 2-4.

Princeton was 6-10 overall last spring, the half dozen victories ranking as the most a team here had won since 1967. Four of the ten defeats were by two goals.

One reason for Robinson's optimistic approach to the current season is the return of a standout attack trio featuring second team All-American Bill Chaires, Captain Jim Shea and senior Jon Pettit. Chaires set Princeton records for goals in a game (5) and season (42) last year. He also made 12 assists for a total of 54 points to lead the team in scoring.

Pettit was 27-20-47, while Shea was third at 14-20-34 The addition of sophomore Rich Thomas, who scored 34 goals and 5 assists for the 8-2 freshman team last season, makes the attack corps look even better.

Despite losing five of his top ten performers, Robinson feels the midfield positions could be stronger this season thanks to a quality crew of returning veterans and a fine contingent of sophomores. The returnees are led by juniors Phil Hooper (10-1-11), Bill Brusilow (8-1-9), Ward Tomlinson (5-0-5) and Hugh McCormick (3-1-4). Junior Greg Meserole, an attack man last year, will move back to the midfield spot this season and should add some scoring punch.

The sophomore class features Pete George, who led the freshmen in scoring last season with 37 goals and 12 assists for 49 points. Others who should provide good depth to the midfield area are Stone, Pen King and Carlos Ferrer. Defensively, the Tigers were a little weak in the midfield slots last season, but figure to improve in 1974.

The defense should also be better since Keith Stock has recovered from an arm injury that plagued him all of last season and junior Dana Seero and senior Scott Kirkley now have a full year of experience under their belts. Sophomores expected to move right in and compete for starting positions are Kevin Lonnie, Sean O'Neill, Rich Batterton and Brooks Nelson.

In the goal, two-year veteran Bill Cronin, the football captain, will receive a stiff challenge for the starting job from sophomore Don Pettit. Cronin holds Princeton records for most saves in a game (27) and a season (277) and should break the career record some time during the 1974 campaign.

"This will be a young team," Robinson said, "but it will be a better one, especially against the top teams." For the third year in a row, only five seniors figure at the top of the depth chart.

"Overall, I expect a better defense to go along with our good offense. We have good overall team speed, depth and a good team attitude and all of us are looking forward to the '74 season."

The schedule: March 23, at Fairleigh Dickinson; 30, Johns Hopkins; April 3, Hofstra; 9, Washington and Lee; 13, at Navy; 17, at Brown; 20, Yale; 24, Penn; 27, at Dartmouth; May 1, Army; 4, at Harvard; 7, at Rutgers; 11, Cornell.

HITTERS WANTED

By Tiger Ball Team. Blessed with a veteran infield returning intact and above-average pitching potential, Princeton's baseball team needs vastly improved hitting ability if it is to make a run for the Eastern Baseball League title that has been beyond its grasp for the past two decades. In recent years, the Tigers have come close with commendable consistency, but more often than not, some topflight pitching has withered on the vine for want of a few robust hits.

Princeton was 14-11 in Eastern competition last spring after an 0-6 effort during a Florida trip. However, the totals would have been a lot better had the Tigers hit with any consistency.

Two Pitchers Lost. The search for ways to improve last year's .188 team average is Coach Eddie Donovan's prime concern this season, followed by the replacement of three-year veteran pitchers Randy Blevins and Bill Coppedge. Blevins was 4-6 last season with a 2.14 E.R.A., while Coppedge was 4-3 and 2.22.

In addition to holding over its entire infield, two outfield starters, Dave Mistretta and Rick Hoberg who were 1-2 in hitting last season with marks of .268 and .265, are on hand again. Other outfield hopefuls are lettermen Tony Riposta and Ron Ziegler and sophomores Jon Blodgett and Glenn Christy, who compiled respective marks of .283 and .275 marks with the 14-2 freshman team last spring.

The infield finds letter winners Ken Beytin at first, John Cullinane at second, Steve Brown at shortstop and Steve Loy at third. Beytin, an All-Ivy choice the past two seasons and a standout fielder, hit .347 in 1972 but dipped to .216 last year.

Junior Bill Napier, who had a poor hitting season in '73 and sophomore Kevin Plunkett are the leading candidates for the starting catcher's berth. Pitching-wise, Donovan will have veterans Steve Crandall (5-0, 1.91) and Scott McHenry (1-5, 3.76) back. He also has three fine hurlers from last year's freshman team in Mark Softy (8-0, 0.75 E.R.A.), Doug Lorenta (3-1,0.91) and Mike French (3-1, 2.11).

Donovan will carry a fine 311-239-10 career record into the 1974 season. He was named District II "Coach of the Year" in both 1951 and 1971.

35 Games Scheduled. Princeton will play six exhibition games and 29 regular season contests. The six pre-season games will be wrapped up in the Florida East Coast Tournament which includes host Florida Bible, Ursinus and Wesleyan.

The regular season will begin at Lafayette on April 3 and close at home against St. John's on May 18. In between, the Tigers will have 17 home contests and nine road games.

The schedule: March 25-30, Florida East Coast Tournament (Florida Bible, Wesleyan, Ursinus); April 3, at Lafayette; 5, Manhattan; 6, Colgate; 8, Buffalo; 9, at Rutgers; 12, Brown; 13, Yale (2); 16, Villanova; 17, at Montclair State; 20, Navy (2); 22, Rider; 24, Rutgers; 26, at Penn; 27, at Columbia (2).

May 1 at Fordham; 3, Army; 4, Cornell (2); 8, Temple; 10, at Dartmouth; 11, at Harvard (2); 13, Seton Hall; 16, N.Y.U.; 18, St. John's (2).

TIGERS SHUT OUT

In All-Ivy Basketball. For the first time in eight years, Princeton failed to place a player on the All-Ivy League basketball team. Captain Andy Rimol and sophomore guard Mickey Steurer were named to the second quintet chosen by the coaches of the member colleges.

Ron Haigler, Pennsylvania's junior forward, was the lone repeater on the first team from 1973 and is the only Ivy player currently in college who has a chance to earn the honor for three years. No sophomores were named to the 1974 quintet.

Rounding that out with Haigler were four other members of the Class of 1975, marking the first year since 1955, when all eight teams first played together in the circuit, that not a single senior was chusen on the first team. The others on this year's quintet are John Beecroft, a guard who is a teammate of Haigler's; Phil Brown and Eddie Morris, center and guard on Brown's team this winter; and Lou Silver, a forward at Harvard.

Completing the second team with Rimol and Steurer were Tony Jenkins, a senior forward at Harvard; Mark Hardaway, a junior guard at Columbia, and Adam Sutton, a sophomore forward at Dartmouth. The latter was voted "sophomore of the year" for winning the individual scoring race.

Final statistics testified to the Tigers' balance, as they placed first in three of the five categories in which teams as a whole are rated. They led in defense with an average of just 55.4 points allowed per game, a figure that gave them a wide lead over second place Penn with 60.2.

They also had a sizeable margin over the Quakers in free throw percentages (.787 to .719), but barely edged them in field goal percentage--.515 to .502. That .515 figure was however, an Ivy League record, breaking the Tigers' own mark of .505 set seven years ago. Penn led in team offense with 79.2 points a game; the Tigers also trailed Brown in this department, 73.7 to 72.9, finishing third.

Princeton's lone individual leader was Rimol, whose .589 average was the top field goal percentage. Rimol, Joe Vavricka and Mickey Steurer were third, fourth and fifth in free throw percentages.

The scoring race won by Sutton with a 19.4 average was the lowest winning mark in seven years. His total of 252 points was also the lowest posted by the winning player since the league began to schedule 14 games a season two decades ago.

Contrary to most intercollegiate sports, the overall quality of play among the Ivies this year was at its lowest point in a decade. It is highly unlikely that any senior will be drafted by the NBA later this year.

THREE TIGERS NAMED

To 2nd All-Ivy Hockey Team. Princeton's best showing in the Ivy League in hockey in several years was reflected by its domination of the six places on the second team chosen by the coaches.

Two of the Princetonians named have closed out their careers in Baker Rink, goalie Phil Robinson and wing Walt Snickenberger. However, the Tiger defenseman chosen, Paul Dionne, is a sophomore.

Two players from title-winning Harvard, two from Yale and one each from Dartmouth and Cornell made up the first team. The Tigers, incidentally, gave the All-Ivy goalie, Yale's Ken MacKenzie, a hard time. In defeating the Elis twice last winter, they scored a total of 10 goals against him.

PHS NINE OUTLOOK

More Talent...No Predictions. Don Blankenbush, starting his second year as coach of the Princeton High School baseball team, declines to make any predictions about the 1974 season other than to say the team will have more talent.

"We have more veterans," he said, "and some good jayvee players coming up. We have more talent all around."

Last year, Blankenbush's first—which he described as "a learning experience for me"—PHS won only four. But those wins included two victories over Trenton High and one each over Ewing and Notre Dame.

"We're in a tough league," commented Blankenbush. "Steinert will be strong...Notre Dame is always tough...which makes it hard to predict anything. So much depends on whether those up from the jayvees can take over where we need help."

Blankenbush welcomes back five veterans from last year's club—all seniors—but he has lost three. Freddie Wilson, who had a fine season with the winter track team, opted to go out for track this spring; Mike Diamond has deserted the baseball diamond for the lacrosse field; and Jeff Drummond, who caught the last three games last season, has decided not to come back.

Heading the list of those returning are Bobby Zinsmeister and John Mooney. For Zinsmeister, the club's leading hitter last season with a .320 average, this will be his fourth year on the varsity. He is a catcher.

Third Year on the Mound. Mooney will be starting his third year on the mound for PHS. A southpaw, he was second to Zinsmeister at the plate with a .310 average. When he isn't pitching, Mooney plays first base or the outfield. Both he and Zinsmeister were members of Princeton's American Legion Post 76 team last year.

Also back are Steve Kopp, George Reynolds and Bobby King. All are versatile and can play a number of positions. Kopp is likely to return to first base. Both Reynolds and King are pitchers with Reynolds doubling as a shortstop or second baseman and King as an outfielder.

King has a potent fastball but lacked control last year. He did not participate in the sport in his freshman or sophomore years. Reynolds once pitched a no-hitter as a jayvee hurler but still lost the game on an error.

Slated to join Mooney and King on the mound are Pete Watson, a junior, and the top candidate up from the jayvees Jim Mellor, another junior. Watson also played third and second and may break in as an infielder; the chunky Mellor may see action as a reliefer.

Seniors vying for a starting position include Andy Alexander, who saw limited action last year; Mark Dalton, Mike Hutchinson and Jim Wetterling. Juniors up from coach Jim O'Neill's team on which Blankenbush will rely heavily are Don Seitz, Larry Howell, Eddie Volz, John Madden, Eric Jahn and Dave Kodner.

Blankenbush describes Howell, a shortstop, as a "good prospect." Volz, he says, has a good attitude and "wants to play ball." He is a second base prospect and utility catcher. Seitz can pitch, play third base or the outfield.

The ability to play several positions that many of the players have Blankenbush views as one of the team's assets. A team captain has not yet been named.

TWO FROM HUN NAMED

To Penn-Jersey 1st Team. Bill Hollowell and Tony Trani of Hun School were among seven players named to the Penn-Jersey all-Star basketball team for 1974. Five of the seven are juniors.

Hollowell, a 6-3 forward and co-captain of the team, was Hun's leading scorer, averaging 17 points per game. He scored more than 1,000 in his career at Hun, breaking into the lineup as a sophomore.

A junior, Trani was a ball-hawking guard who directed the team from the floor and was a superb shooter from outside. He averaged 14 points a game.

Jerry Eure, 18.2 average and Wayne Emme (20.0) Pennington School's two fine guards, joined Trani and Hollowell on the first team. Eure is a junior.

Hun Center Dave Clark was named to the second team, while teammate Brent Bystrzycki received honorable mention. Bystrzycki was co-captain of the Hunm quintet along with Hollowell.

STATE SWIM TITLE WON

By Andy Bolster. The lone winner from Mercer County in the 52d NJSIAA state swimming championships held Saturday in Princeton University's Dillon Pool was Andy Bolster.

Bolster, a 17-year old Princeton High School senior, won the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:02.4. Since PHS has no pool, Bolster swims on his own at the Princeton YMCA. He has been practicing with Y coach Jeff Lowe at the Peddie School, and in February placed second in the Eastern Interscholastic Swimming Championships held at Lawrenceville.

Bolster, who has been swimming since he was 8, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bolster, 124 Parkside Drive.

PHS RUNNERS EXCEL

In Marathon Race. Four members of the Princeton High School track team entered the 26.2 mile Earth Day Marathon held Sunday at Roosevelt Raceway on Long Island, N.Y. with exceptional results.

Competing against high school runners from four states, the PHS contingent won top high school team honors with 91 points. Royce Flippin covered the distance in 3:06:28, followed by Morgan Snyder with 3:18:34. It was the first marathon race for both.

Marc Anderson, PHS cross country coach, pointed out that Flippin was only a sophomore. "That's a very good effort for a boy that young. In fact, it's outstanding. A marathon is a very grueling race."

Princeton High's George Chambers covered the distance in 3:32:53. Kathy Woodbridge of PHS, running in her first marathon, placed fourth in the woman's section with a clocking of 3:32:53. The runners had to contend with severe wind gusts that reached 40 miles per hour.

More than 700 took part in the race, some 150 boys in the high school category. Princeton University junior William Johanson finished 20th overall with a time of 2.;45:52.

WINDS IN CHARGE

Of Sunday Sailing Races. A repeat of last week's strong winds coupled with even lower temperature Sunday again tried the spirits of the Carnegie Sailing Club Sunfish fleet. Staying upright was the most important racing tactic in the gusty, shifting, winds.

They provided some fast rides, but quickly tired the seven chilled and wet skippers who participated. Only two races were sailed, and Bob Holtzman was the only skipper to complete both.

The standings in the special Winter Series remain unchanged, with Tad LaFountain in first place and Holtzman second.

PHS PLACES THREE

..On All-Mercer Mat Team. The Princeton High School wrestling team, Mercer County champions and undefeated against county high schools, placed three on the All-Mercer team.

Princeton's Dave Robinson was named the team's 101-pound representative—the only sophomore chosen. During the season, Dave pinned nine of his opponents.

Bob Zinsmeister was named at the 148-pound division. A District 17 champion in his junior year, Zinsmeister failed to repeat when he was defeated in the District semi-finals this year by Marty Short of Steinert, who was named to the second team.

Zinsmeister had the better seasonal record of 17 wins, three losses. His regular season mark was 10-1; six of the 10 were pins.

Arcaro, 170-pound standout at PHS, made history two weeks ago when he became the first PHS wrestler ever to win a Regional title. Arcaro ended the year with a sparkling overall record of 19 wins, 3 losses.

Named to the second team from PHS were Jerry Moriarty, 115 pounds, and Mike Holcombe (122), both seniors, and Vince Ader, 158 pounds. Ader is a sophomore.

Selected on the third team were Jeff Drummond, 188 pounds and runner-up in the District matches this year, and heavyweight Dan Poling. Both are seniors.

ARCARO MAT VICTIM

In State Tournament. Angelo Arcaro's participation in the NJSIAA state wrestling tournament at Jadwin Gym last week ended quickly when he was eliminated in the first round.

Arcaro, 170-pound entry from Princeton High School who had surprised and delighted wrestling fans in this area when he defeated three district champions the week before to become the first Regional champion ever from PHS, was outclassed by John Finn of Cedar Ridge. Finn accumulated four near-falls in defeating Arcaro, 20-0.

Arcaro finished his senior year at PHS with a 19-3 mat record.

TENNIS FOR EVERYONE

Tournament Saturday Night. The Women's Division of the Princeton Jewish Center is sponsoring an indoor tennis tournament Saturday complete with ranked play, trophies and a midnight snack.

The tournament, offering play for singles, doubles and mixed doubles, will take place at the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center beginning at 7:30. Both Jewish Center members and non-members are welcome.

Donations for the tournament will be $20 per couple. Additional information may be obtained through Mrs. Abraham Freund (921-8466), Mrs. Leonard Jacobson (452-9204) or Mrs. Allen Porter (921-2319).

WINNERS NAMED

In Dog Training Class. Winners in beginners' and intermediate classes were named Thursday after the Princeton Dog Training Club held graduation exercises at Princeton Day School. Thirty-seven dogs competed.

First place in beginners' class with 150½ points was awarded to a Wheaten Terrier owned by Joan B. Alpert, 363 Prospect Avenue. Second (149) was a German Shepherd owned by Allen Seitz of Skillman; third (148) an

For Cathy Froehlich, "A" for Effort, Anyway

Cathy Froehlich

Princeton High School senior Cathy Froehlich is the first girl ever to try out for the boys' varsity baseball team.

Cathy, who had hoped to become the Little Tigers' second baseman, practiced with the boys from the first day of training March 1 until the 14th when coach Don Blankenbush was forced to cut her from the squad. It was not an easy decision for Blankenbush.

He reported that he had a long talk with her before he told her he would have to drop her from the team. "It was impossible for her to compete with the guys because they're a lot tougher," he said, "and she hadn't played any organized ball."

"I'm really glad I came out," said Cathy, who admitted that she didn't have enough experience, aside from playing some softball. "A lot of girls said they were glad I was doing it and I told them to come join me, but they said 'no,' they didn't have enough guts."

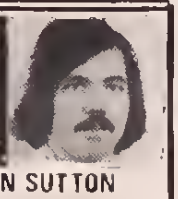
SPORTS Go-Round



by JOHN SUTTON

Ballet a sport? Although most artists of the ballet think their art much more complicated and perfect than a sport, it turns out that there's an element of sport in the art, especially in the fitness of the performers. It is said that Vatslav Nijinsky, a Russian-born Pole, and one of the world's most famous ballet dancers, could cross and uncross his feet ten times in a single elevation. Most physical education experts disbelieve this, since, they reason, no high jumper can stay off the ground for more than one second.

And it is said that SPORTS 'N' THINGS, Montgomery Shopping Center, Rte 206 & 518, 924-8162 is tops in service and selection. We feature a complete line of quality sporting equipment for fishing, camping, tennis, golf, hockey, bicycling, and baseball. Open: 10-6 Mon-Wed; 10-9 Thurs, Fri; 10-6 Sat; 10-2 Sun.

Australian Terrier owned by Mrs. John T. Bonner, 148 Mercer Street and fourth (147) a Golden Retriever owned by Miss Karen Burkert of Kendall Park. Miss Burkert was also the highest scoring junior handler. Mrs. Susan B. Hyland was judge.

In the intermediate class, a German Shepherd owned by Robert Walters of Somerset placed first with 196 points. Another German Shepherd owned by Mrs. Peter Grosz of Pretty Brook Road was second and a Doberman Pincher owned by Mrs. Geraldine Curmosino of Lawrence Township, third. Mrs. Nan Agar was judge.

The highest scoring dog of a club member was a Shetland Sheepdog owned by Mrs. Connie Wyers.

DEADLINE SATURDAY

For Midget Baseball Signing. The Y.M.C.A. Midget Baseball League is now accepting registration for the spring season. The league is open to anyone who will be 10, but will not have reached the age of 13 by June 30.

Practice will begin about the first week of April, with league games beginning the week of April 22 and all teams competing twice a week. Season play will conclude at the end of May, followed by a championship series between the two division winners.

Registration must be completed by Saturday. For further information, contact the Y.M.C.A., 924-4825.

CONTE' ELIMINATED

In Basketball Playoffs. El-De's shocked league champion Conte's Bar, and Ivy Inn ousted Kingston W & L last week in Adult Basketball league semi-final playoffs. El-De's met Ivy for the playoff title this week.

Conte's opened its best two of three series with El-De's with a 59-43 win. Whit Rutter's layup gave the regular-season champions an 18-16 lead with three minutes left in the second quarter, and Conte's then scored seven more unanswered points to lead by nine, as cold shooting El-De's could manage just four points in the period.

Accurate foul shooting (16 for 22) kept Conte's comfortably in front after that, as Rutter finished with a game-high 22 points and Mike Desmond added 15. El-De's came back the next night to claim a 75-59 victory and deadlock the series. With its pressing, fast breaking style of play working to perfection, El-De's broke quickly out to an amazing 26-9 lead early in the second quarter.

Conte's staged a comeback to narrow the gap, and Jim McLeod's two foul shots brought the barmen within three (34-31) at halftime. Craig Hannas gave Conte's the lead at 41-40, but two field goals by John Bailey, three by John Madden and two more by Willie Hill enabled El-De's to build a 55-47 margin as the third quarter ended.

Still leading by eight with five minutes to play, El-De's forced a now tired Conte's into man-to-man coverage and pulled steadily away for a convincing win. Five men hit double figures for the winners, paced by Hill's 21. Hannas fired in 24 for Conte's.

The deciding game was a thriller from the start as John Bailey's jumper at the buzzer gave El-De's a 17-16 edge after one quarter. With Conte's ahead 24-23 early in second quarter action, Bailey was charged with his third personal foul and Conte's took advantage of his absence to carve out a 37-31 lead at the intermission. El-De's bounced back to outscore Conte's 16-6 in the third quarter as Willie Hill hit for eight big points, and the challengers took a six point-spread into the final four minutes.

Then El-De's went to its spread offense; Reggie Swain hit for a three point play and Bailey converted two fouls for a 60-51 lead with three minutes to go. Conte's seemingly beaten, put on a furious rally and reclaimed the lead at 61-60 with 1:07 remaining on Craig Hannas' clutch basket.

The league champions regained possession and attempted to run out the clock, but Hill stole the ball and passed to Reggie Swain, whose layup at 0:25 put El-De's back on top. After a Conte's miss, Hill sank two fouls to sew up the 66-61 triumph.

Little Reggie Swain sparked the winners with 16, Doug Battle added 13, Bailey and Hill each had 12. Hannas' 18 again led the Conte's attack, while Doug Harmon contributed 16.

Ivy Inn eliminated Kingston W & L in two straight games by scores of 80-59 and 83-76. Kingston broke quickly out to a 19-11 first quarter lead in the opener, but Ivy used strong rebounding to close the gap and pulled easily away with a 53 point second half as the Kingston shooters went cold.

Mike Maguire (19) Art Midgett (17) and Tom Michaud (14) paced Ivy. Tim Kearns netted 16 for Kingston.

The second game was much closer, with both teams shooting well. Kingston again broke on top early and led 34-30 late in the second period, then Ivy spurted for eight straight and gained a 44-36 halftime lead.

Red hot Bruce Coburn brought Kingston a brief lead at 51-50, but Ivy's Mike Maguire put Ivy back in front. Two more Coburn scores put Kingston ahead 68-65 with less than five minutes remaining, but Maguire's bank shot with 1:53 to play gave Ivy a 73-72 edge.

Tom Michaud then hit two fouls and a basket to give Ivy a five-point lead with 1:10 on the clock and Kingston was beaten. Maguire fired in 27 and Michaud 26 for Ivy, while Coburn's 34 and Tim Kearns' 20 were not enough for the losers.

Regular season champion Conte's Bar will meet an All-Star team chosen by a vote of league players and coaches on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Princeton High School gym.

PENNINGTON GIRL WINS

In Diving Trials. Carol Wagner, 14-year old freshman at Hopewell Valley High School in Pennington, surprised the field Sunday at the Women's AAU pre-qualifying Nationals held at Wisconsin University.

Miss Wagner won the three-meter dive and placed fifth in the one-meter. Her performance qualifies her for the Women's National AAU Championships to be held April 4-5 in Dallas, Tex. She is the National Junior Olympic one-meter champion and the New Jersey Junior Olympic three-meter champion.

King All-Mercer Pick

To no one's surprise, Princeton High School's Booby King has been named to the first-team All-Mercer County basketball team selected by the Trenton Times.

A deadly shooter from outside, King also led the Little Tigers in rebounds and assists. He scored 1,106 career points to place him ninth on the all-time County 1,000 list and led all on the first team with a 25.5 average. His top performance was 40 against Hun School; in his last four games, he poured in 125 points.

Joining King on the first team are Ewing's Hollis Copeland, Pete Larkin of Steinert and Marco Dillard and Lew Clark of Trenton.

Paddle Tournaments Set

The Princeton Area Platform Tennis Championships have been expanded this year to include a women's tournament. Matches will be played March 25-27 for women, and 30-31 for men, with both finals to be held Sunday, March 31, at Community Park.

All Princeton residents and area club members are welcome to enter. Information and entry forms will be available at all clubs and courts next week. Deadline for entries is this Friday.

For more information, call Jack Roberts at the Princeton Recreation Department, 921-9480.

NATIONAL POISON PREVENTION WEEK
MARCH 17-23, 1974

Accidents are more easily prevented than treated.

Keep these basic rules in mind:

1. Never tell a child medicine is candy.
2. Never take medicine in the dark.
3. Never take medicine prescribed for another person.
4. Clean out your medicine chest on a routine basis.
5. Keep all medicine out of the reach of children—(You should too, Grandma!)
6. Read the directions on the label before taking medication . . . . . and follow them!
7. Don't use beverage bottles to store cleaning fluid, kerosene, etc.
8. If you or any member of your family has a drug reaction or idiosyncracy, inform your physician and your pharmicist, so that this information may be included in your records.

If there is any question, ask your physician or pharmicist.
